11-year old briefly missing

By LIZZY HILL
News Correspondent

WILMINGTON — On Sunday evening, Wilmington Police received a call that the missing 11-year old boy had returned to his Wilmington home. A resident originally called the police early Sunday morning when they woke up and discovered their child missing.

Determining that the boy was truly not at home, the police gathered all of the information that they would need to start their search. They included in their public media log, "description given is 5'1", 110 lbs, brown hair, brown eyes, possibly wearing pajamas: a Boston Bruins top and spongebob bottoms, also wearing flip flops."

The log also said that the police called in a NEMLEC K9 to aid in the search.

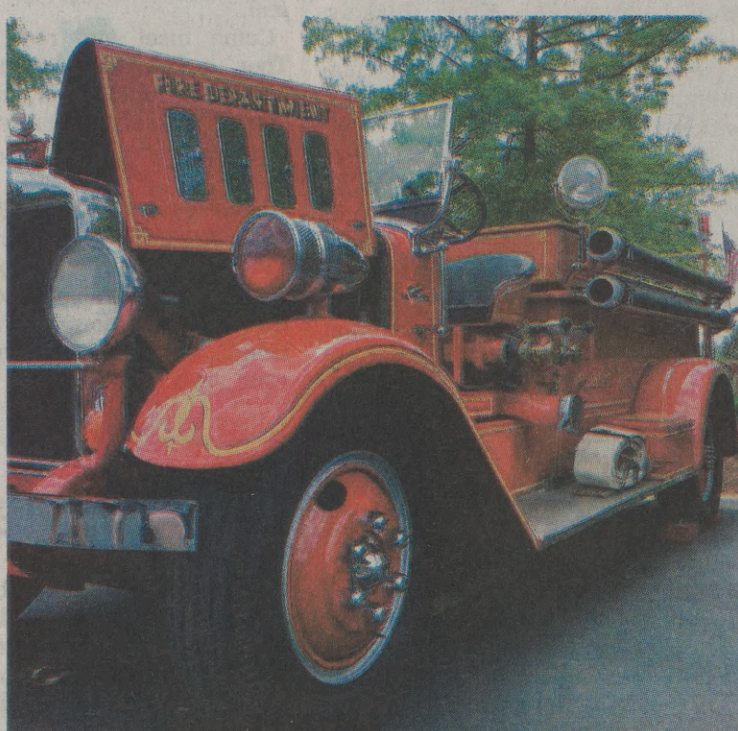

Besides the extra help from the K9, the police reached out to other Wilmington residents for help the search via a reverse 911 call and social media.

Wilmington Police Chief Joseph Desmond said, "We really appreciated how many residents came out and drove around, acting as our extra eyes and ears."

Working with the public helped the police department conduct a thorough search of the surrounding area and answer and follow-up with any leads that they got from the parents or from other residents.

The family of the 11-year old called WPD back around 4:45 p.m. to let them know that their child was home. They then let residents know of the boy's return again by reverse 911 and social media posts.

Desmond continued, "the family is dealing with the issue privately to figure out where he was and why he left."

Mass. Antique Fire Apparatus Association presents Antique Fire Apparatus Parade and Show

By HEATHER BURNS
News Correspondent

WILMINGTON — The Massachusetts Antique Fire Apparatus Association invites you to join them on Saturday, June 22, 2019 at the Shriners Auditorium, 99 Fordham Road in Wilmington. This is the new location of the 42nd anniversary Antique Fire Apparatus Parade and Show.

The Mass Antique Fire Apparatus Association was founded as a group in 1977 as a local chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Appreciation of Antique Motorized Fire Apparatus in America (SPAAMFAA). The main chapter is located in Syracuse, NY.

The purpose of this organization is to promote and preserve Antique Motorized Fire Apparatus.

After many years of holding this event at Edgewater park in Lynnfield, MAFAA was forced to find a new location when the new management of Edgewater Park decided to no longer host large events at Edgewater Park.

As the Board of Directors for the MAFAA looked for a somewhat last minute replacement venue for the parade and show, the Shriners Auditorium was suggested, but was already booked for the third weekend in June (the usual weekend for this event). However, the Shriners Auditorium was open for the following weekend, the 22nd of June.

James McGonagle, member of MAFAA Board of Directors, long time Wilmington resident, and also a Shriner, thought that the Shriners Auditorium would be a good fit.

McGonagle said, "The Shriners were looking for a parade to host, so partnering with the Shriners organization would make this event bigger and better than before."

The MAFAA is expecting over 60 pieces of fire equipment to participate in the parade from all over Massachusetts. With the addition of the Shriners Fire Brigade golf carts and clowns, the board members are anticipating the parade to be a big success.

The parade starts at Kitty's Restaurant in North Reading at 10 a.m. and will go left onto Rt. 62, then proceed to Federal Street, to Concord Street, to Fordham Road, ending at the Shriners Auditorium. The fire apparatus will be on display in the parking lot of the auditorium for the public to view.

Inside the auditorium there will be plenty of activities for young and old alike. A Firematic Flea Market will be set up from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m., with vendors selling fire related gifts, toys, collectables, antiques and more. Hand drawn fire apparatus will also be on display inside the auditorium, as well as model builders and a variety of

Cleanup plan on the horizon for Olin, reprioritized by EPA

By LIZZIE MCDERMOTT
News Correspondent

WILMINGTON — It is not just the Town of Wilmington that has expressed frustration in dealings with Olin Chemical.

EPA Section Chief Lynne Jennings spoke to the Board of Selectmen with regard to ongoing contamination at the Olin site on May 28.

Jennings explained to the board that Olin submitted an interim feasibility study on the site in March of 2018, after years of disagreement and debate regarding the nature of the contamination. It took until December for the EPA and Olin to reach an agreement regarding corrections and updates to the feasibility study.

In April 2019, Olin submitted a new draft feasibility study addressing contaminated groundwater and dense aqueous-phased liquid (DAPL), and on May 24 submitted a draft feasibility study with regard to specific property at the site. Both are being reviewed by the EPA. In June, a draft remedial investigation will be submitted.

Jennings explained that this "interim" action will lead to interim cleanup plans for some aspects of the site and more complete plans for others. In the meantime, there will be a 30-day period throughout which the EPA will accept comments from stakeholders.

Jennings assured the board that a final cleanup plan would ultimately be issued, at which point negotiations would take place with the responsible party to take care of the financial side of the cleanup. She said that this could involve a mandated order for Olin to conduct the cleanup on its own dime, or an order for Olin to pay for the cleanup after the fact through a cost remediation process.

"Each case is very, very different with how we... proceed with getting the work done," said Jennings.

Jennings also expressed that EPA representatives had noted that Olin was challenging to work with.

"Working with Olin has been... it's been difficult. The cooperation has not been where we want it to be," said Jennings.

She characterized the 12 years the site has spent in "investigative mode" on the national priorities list without a cleanup plan as problematic.

"That's just a time frame that is not acceptable, and we need to move past that," Jennings said.

Jennings also noted that care would need to be taken to ensure Olin doesn't begin any constructing or contracting processes on the site that could interfere with ongoing cleanup.

Members of the board urged the EPA to make sure that the complete cleanup plan and procedure actually does come to pass.

"You've got to help us here in the town," said Selectman Michael McCoy, noting that the federal government could exert influence in areas that municipal government likely couldn't. "You've got to work with us, we're really counting on you."

McCoy added that he wanted to ensure the interim remediation plan did not replace the complete one entirely.

"Our biggest concern is that this is something that is not new," he said, noting that plans have been in the works off and on throughout much of his multiple decades on the board.

Selectman Jonathan Eaton concurred with McCoy. He noted that the drawn-out timeframe of the debates and investigative process had worsened the contamination, and that it was the residents in the area who ultimately paid the price for that.

"I found it to be almost relieving that you've found... your experience with Olin to be frustrating," said Eaton, "and it really shouldn't be that way, but at least it feels... like your experience with them has been similar to ours."

RMLD asks customers to 'Shred the Peak'

READING — Reading Municipal Light Department (RMLD) is asking customers to help Shred the Peak again this year.

Peaks occur when the highest level of electricity is consumed in our region both monthly and annually. Peak electricity is expensive, affecting power supply costs and in turn, customer bills. Peaks also impact the environment because the more inefficient and environmentally impacting generators are needed in order to meet the high demand for electricity. RMLD's Shred the Peak campaign is an effort to educate customers on the impact of peaks, and to collectively reduce RMLD's electricity use during peak times.

The success of Shred the Peak depends heavily on customer participation. RMLD customers can help Shred the Peak by taking the following steps:

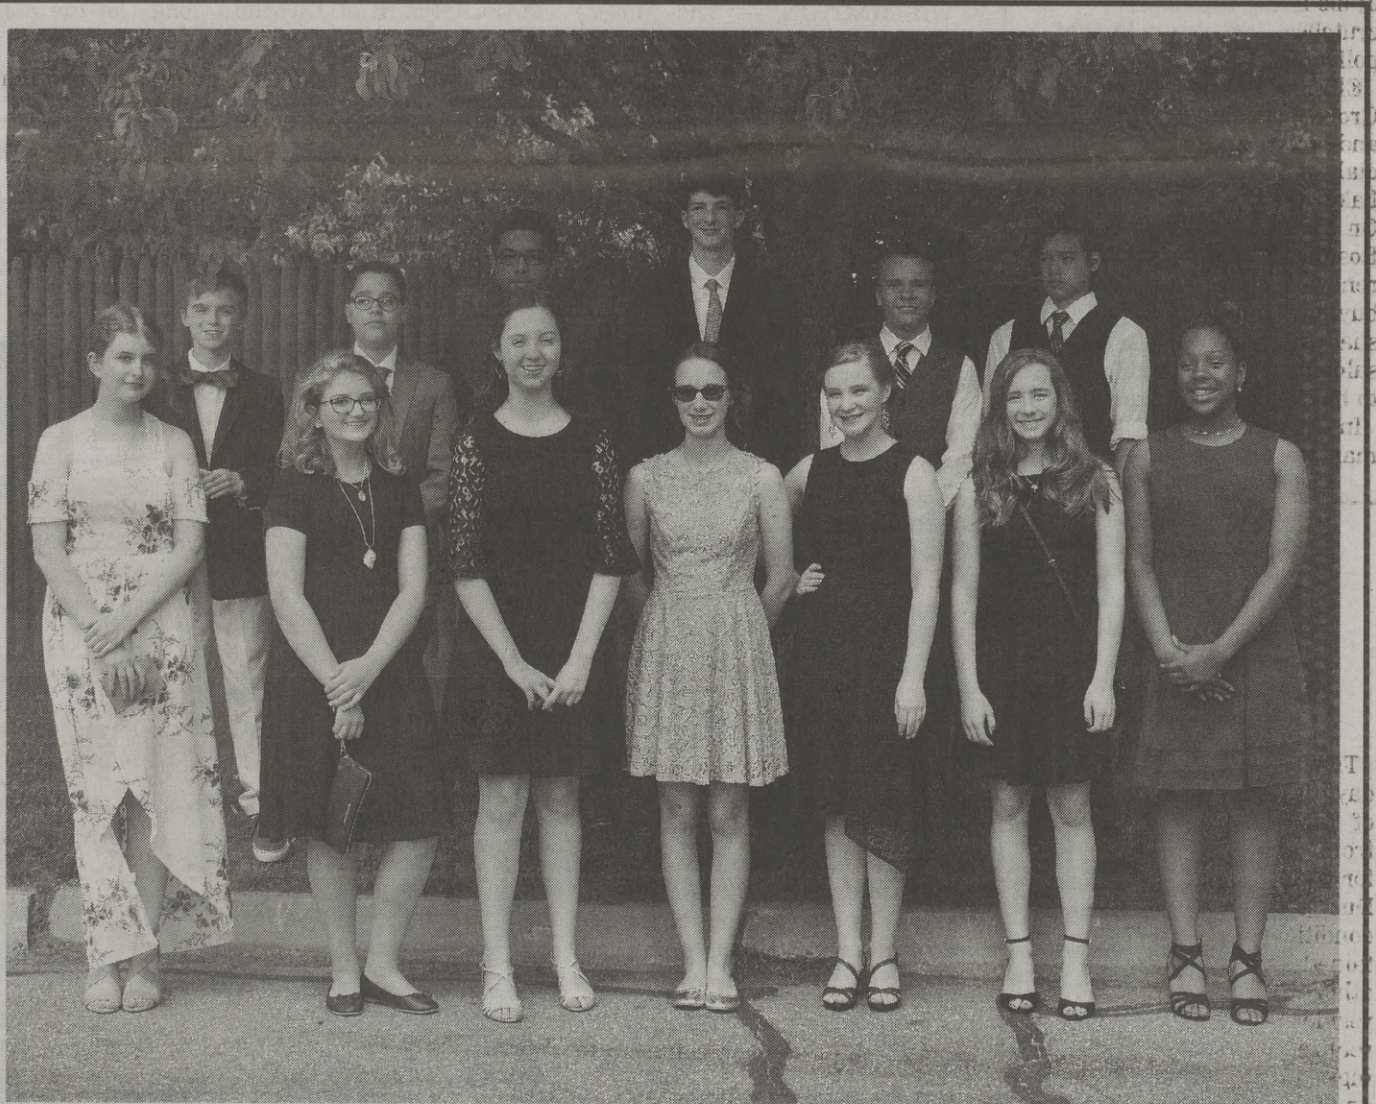

1 - SIGN UP FOR SHRED THE PEAK ALERTS. Peaks are predicted based on historical trends and weather. RMLD will send out an alert via email (sign up at <http://bit.ly/shredthepeaksignup>) and on Twitter (follow RMLD @ReadingLight) the day before or day of a predicted event. RMLD will also post the alert on RMLD.com and send it to the local community television stations. Multiple Shred the Peak Alerts will be issued each month to ensure actual peaks are captured.

2 - CONSERVE DURING THE PREDICTED PEAK:

Turn off lights and electronics when they're not needed, and postpone using washers, dryers, dishwashers, humidifiers/dehumidifiers, and pool pumps until after the predicted peak window. In the summer, raise the temperature setting on your air conditioner by a few degrees (from 70 to 74, for example), and cook dinner on the grill.

Please help RMLD Shred the Peak! For more information, visit <https://www.rmld.com/home/pages/shred-peak>.

News and notes from WCTV

By SHAUN NEVILLE
WCTV Executive Director

This Friday is the annual Relay for Life event at Wilmington High School. Participants not only come from the community, but also from Tewksbury and Billerica. It's a great cause and we'll be there live (Comcast 9/Verizon 37) Friday evening, with the opening ceremony starting around 6 p.m. The Luminaria Ceremony will happen soon after dusk at about 9 p.m. We also plan to carry another remembrance ceremony around 11 p.m. While our signal will be up the entire time, there are likely to be some gaps in between the televised "action." But if you're clicking around on Friday night, make this one of your stops. It's always a good event.

Our coverage of the WHS graduates continues online and on TV. Tune in Friday and Sunday nights starting at 7 p.m. for replays of graduation, scholarship night and other senior activities. Or, head to WCTV.org to watch programs on-demand. If you'd like a physical DVD copy of the ceremony, email me at shaun@wctv.org. They are available for $15.

Our television schedule will soon have the graduation ceremony from Shawheen Tech as well. Thanks to our friends at Billerica Access Television for sharing.

We'll be sharing out results of our annual community survey in the next couple of weeks. Thanks to all of those who participated! We got well over 100 responses and will be drawing for the lucky gift card winners in the coming days.

It was a relatively light week for programming last week, with the WHS boys baseball team wrapping up its season with a playoff loss to Dracut.

Also new on WCTV: Board of Selectmen, School Committee and Board of Appeals.

You may notice our online video-on-demand (which includes our live streaming and schedules) looks a little different. We've updated the color scheme and added a sponsor! Well Water Connection will have their logo displayed inside of the player for the next couple of months. If you know a local business who might be interested in this sort of branding, contact me at shaun@wctv.org and I can send along information about rates for future months.

It's Your Money by Todd Brisbois

DIDN'T FILE BY APRIL 15?

There is no penalty for filing a late return after the tax deadline if a refund is due. Penalties and interest only accrue on unfilled returns if taxes are not paid by April 15. Anyone who did not file and owes tax should file a return as soon as they can and pay as much as possible to reduce penalties and interest. For those who qualify, IRS Free File is still available on IRS.gov through Oct. 15 to prepare and file returns electronically.

Filing soon is especially important because the late-filing penalty on unpaid taxes adds up quickly. Ordinarily, this penalty, also known as the failure-to-file penalty, is usually 5 percent for each month or part of a month that a return is late.

But if a return is filed more than 60 days after the April due date, the minimum penalty is either $210 or 100 percent of the unpaid tax, whichever is less. This means that if the tax due is $210 or less, the penalty is equal to the tax amount due. If the tax due is more than $210, the penalty is at least $210.

In some instances, a taxpayer filing after the deadline may qualify for penalty relief. If there is a good reason for filing late, be sure to attach an explanation to the return.

Alternatively, taxpayers who have a history of filing and paying on time often qualify for penalty relief. A taxpayer will usually qualify for this relief if they haven't been assessed penalties for the past three years and meet other requirements. For more information, see the first-time penalty abatement page on IRS.gov.

San Oo, Wan graduate WPI

WORCESTER — Worcester Polytechnic Institute (WPI) President Laurie Leshin and Board of Trustees Chairman Jack Mollen presided over the university's 151st Commencement celebration, awarding over 850 master's and doctoral degrees at the Graduate Ceremony, held on the campus Quadrangle.

Kaung Myat San Oo of Tewksbury was awarded a master of science degree in electrical and computer engineering.

Zhenyu Wan of Tewksbury was awarded a master of science degree in robotics engineering.

This year's graduate address was given by Freeman A. Hrabowski III, president of the University of Maryland, Baltimore County.

In his remarks, Hrabowski expressed his excitement at being asked by his longtime friend, Laurie Leshin, to speak at WPI's graduate commencement. "I've been watching the progress of WPI for a long time," he said. "You're a national leader in project-based learning, and you're the alma mater of Robert Goddard. In my area, that's a big deal."

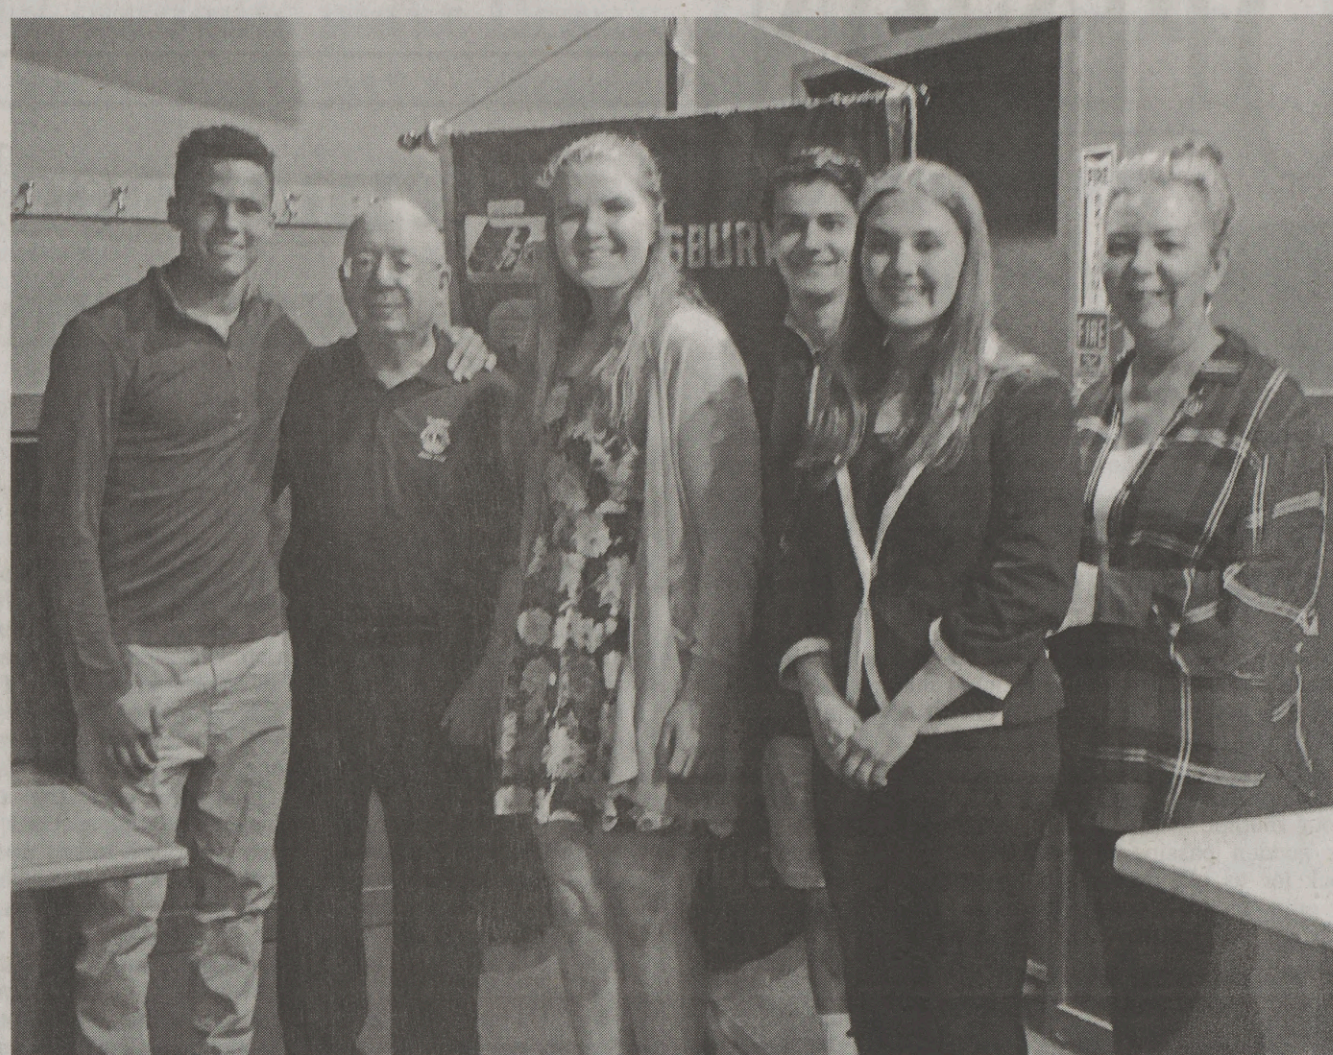

WPI awarded honorary degrees to Hrabowski and to Kevin O'Sullivan, who recently retired as president and CEO of Massachusetts Biomedical Initiatives.

In her remarks, President Leshin congratulated the Class of 2019 for "enduring stress, overcoming setbacks, and pushing boundaries." As students leave campus with a degree, Leshin said she anticipates they will continue to "break barriers and open new doors."

Graduate student speaker Doreen Manning then gave her remarks. Manning, who received her master's of business administration, told her fellow graduates that she took an indirect route since "earning a master's degree had simply not been on my career radar."

Manning said her worldview is different now. "So as I leave the podium today, I will do so not only with a diploma, but with new insights into myself and my role within the world," Manning said. "Yet even more important, when I meet with alumni in my position as editor of the WPI Journal, I get to tell them, with pride, 'I'm an alum, too!'"

History:

Broken egg scam led to broken leg

By LARZ F. NEILSON

An encounter with a con artist in Boston led to a broken leg for a Wilmington special policeman, 100 years ago.

The story appeared in the Boston Globe after Otis Ellis told a municipal court judge of his misfortune. He was on crutches, and wore a special policeman's badge.

Ellis, a plumber, lived off Grove Avenue with his wife and daughter. He was a special policeman at Silver Lake for about eight years. On May 21, 1919 he went to Boston to buy materials for renovating his house. After buying shingles and window shades, he left them in a saloon to go to another store to buy more materials.

In the saloon, he met a man wanting to gamble, later identified as Howard Sinclair. He wanted to guess Ellis' weight on a $1 bet. Ellis said he did not want to take the man's money, but the man persisted. Sinclair's guess was off by 30 pounds.

"Then he wanted to bet me I could not break an egg between my two hands by pressing both ends. He picked up an egg from a glass jar and gave it to me to break," Ellis told a judge.

"I pressed it hard and did break it. The man was not satisfied after I broke the egg in my hands, saying I turned it around sideways. I told him that the theory that people advance that an egg cannot be broken by pressing both ends was all wrong, that I could break any egg in that manner.

"I left the saloon and he followed me to the sidewalk.

He kept saying I turned the egg, that I never broke it right. He went back into the saloon, bought an egg for five cents and took it outside. There was another bet.

"Break this egg, but put your $10 on the sidewalk," said the man. So I put $10 on the sidewalk. Sinclair threw a bill on the sidewalk to cover it, but it was all crumpled up and proved to be only a $1 bill.

"No sooner did I lay the money on the sidewalk, and I took the egg from Sinclair, than he picked up the money and ran away. I'm a pretty fast runner myself. I chased him through a tunnel which runs from Haverhill Street to Canal Street and caught him just as he was reaching Canal Street, but he broke away. I chased him again but fell, fracturing a leg. I went to the Relief Hospital."

Policeman John D. McLaughlin testified he heard Ellis yelling, "Stop, thief!" and saw a crowd chasing somebody. He joined in the chase and caught Sinclair. Ellis identified Sinclair as the man who stole his $10. Sinclair offered to give the $10 back to Ellis, but McLaughlin held it as evidence. Judge Sullivan found Sinclair guilty and held him for sentencing.

$62M bond sale for elementary school project

TEWKSBURY — On Tuesday, June 4, 2019, the Town of Tewksbury received bids from financial institutions for a $62,000,000 Bond Sale. Due to favorable market conditions, Tewksbury's sustained AA+ bond rating, and other factors, Tewksbury residential taxpayers will realize more than $90 in savings from the estimated annual cost of the Elementary School Project.

"This is great news for the residents and businesses whose taxes support this community and the education of the children that reside here," said Jay Kelly, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen. "Mr. Montuori, Tewksbury Finance Department, and our financial team at UniBank did an excellent job securing the best financial outcome for Tewksbury."

There were nine bids received and the low bidder was Mesirow Financial, Inc. at an effective borrowing rate of 2.43 percent. The low bidder also bid with a bond premium of $6,163,659 which is being used to offset the cost of these projects allowing the town to reduce the size of the bond issue. Mesirow Financial is one of the largest Chicago-based fixed-income broker dealers with 30 years of experience in public finance. Of the $62,000,000 bond issue, $60,000,000 is for the Elementary School Complex Project and $2,000,000 is Water Distribution Projects. As part of the Bond Sale process, S&P Global Ratings maintained the town's AA+ Bond Rating. In S&P's report they referenced the following influential factors:

- Tewksbury's well-embedded financial management practices which have produced consistent financial results over the past several years, which they expect to continue;
- Very strong economy, with access to a broad and diverse metropolitan statistical area (MSA);
- Very strong management, with strong financial policies and practices;
- Strong budgetary performance;
- Strong budgetary flexibility;
- Very strong liquidity;
- Adequate debt and contingent liability position.

The timing of the Bond Sale allowed the town to take advantage of historically low interest rates and the result drastically reduced the tax burden on taxpayers. Based upon this Bond Sale, the property tax impact of the Elementary School Project will be less than originally estimated.

With all town property values and percentages remaining the same (current FY19) and the tax split for Commercial, Industrial and Personal (CIP) at 1.55 the first year tax impact (FY20) per average home value of $404,963 is now estimated to be $352.32 per year instead of the original estimate of $445.46 per year and $0.87 per/1000 for Residential values instead of the original estimate of $1.10 per/1000 for Residential values or $1.53 per/1000 for Commercial, Industrial and Personal Property values instead of the original estimate of $1.92 per/1000.

This tax impact will steadily decline in subsequent years and the average residential property tax over the 20-year borrowing will be $274.36.

Letters to the editor

Kane/Benoit family thanks community for support

Dear Wilmington community, The Kane/Benoit family would like to thank the entire Wilmington community for the love and support shown to our family at the passing of our mother, Peggy Kane. Her sudden passing was a shock for us all, but seeing the outpouring of love and kindness from the community helped to ease the pain and would have made her smile.

Margaret and Kelly from Nichols Funeral Home, as well as Margie from Tremezos, helped make some of the more difficult tasks easier.

Our mother had a passion for education. Even after teaching at Medford High School for 35 years, she continued in the field of education, volunteering as a School Committee member, as well as being a strong supporter and member of the Friends of the Library and Bookstore Next Door.

We hope to continue her love of education with a scholarship fund for future graduates of Wilmington High School pursuing a higher educational degree. Donations can be made to Wilmington High School Scholarship Fund, 159 Church Street, Wilmington, MA 01887.

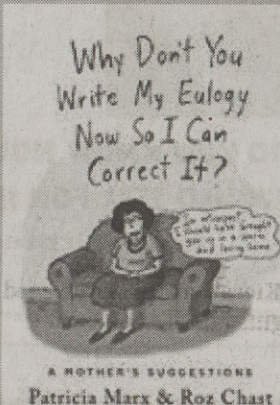

Thank you again continue for the continued support of our family and the students of Wilmington Public Schools.

The Kane/Benoit Family

'Why Don't You Write My Eulogy Now So I Can Correct it?: A Mother's Suggestions' by Patricia Marx, Roz Chast

By EILEEN MACDOUGALL

This hilarious little volume is quoted and drawn by two of the funniest women of our time. Marx writes snarky, laugh-out-loud pieces for the New Yorker magazine, and Chast's genius cartoons in the same venue, as well as her own collections, make for a brilliant comedic act. In fact, two of Chast's earlier works have reflected the vagaries of her own mother. Each page is a nugget of dis-wisdom from Momma Marx, including this gem: "Never wear black and red together or you will look like a drum majorette."

You can read it in 15 minutes, and go back and reread and laugh forever. Get your scanner warmed up, you'll be sharing pages with everyone.

UNH researchers find slowdown in earth's temps stabilized nature's calendar

DURHAM, N.H. — Sometimes referred to as nature's calendar, phenology looks at the seasonal life cycle of plants and animals and is one of the leading indicators of climate change. It's the observance of natural occurrences like the first formation of buds and flowers in the spring and the changing colors of leaves in the fall. According to researchers at the University of New Hampshire, when the rate of the Earth's air temperature slows down for a significant amount of time, so can phenology.

In a study, recently published in the journal Nature Communications, researchers focused on a 15-year period in the early part of this century, when there was a temporary slowdown in the rise of the Earth's air temperatures. It continued to rise, but more slowly than in the years before and after. Scientists found that during that period, phenology remained relatively constant from year to year, with no appreciable increase in the length of the growing seasons.

"This finding was a big surprise to us because the Earth's climate is changing and affecting the length of the seasons," says Jingfeng Xiao, a research associate professor at the UNH Earth Systems Research Center. "Over the past decades we have experienced longer growing seasons, with spring coming earlier and fall coming later, but this wasn't the situation from 1998 to 2012 in the northern hemisphere."

Phenology plays a major role in helping to regulate plant photosynthesis, transpiration, and energy exchange. When phenology stabilizes, it's easier to estimate when to start a garden, when fall foliage will peak and helps life cycles like pollination, migration and mating.

Researchers examined the carbon dioxide exchange between plants and the atmosphere from 56 sites located in forests, croplands, savannas,

International, national and local war remembrances vital

By PAUL ANDREWS

What a week this was for ceremonial events around the globe on issues of huge impact for all past and current citizens young and old, veteran and non-veterans, native born or immigrants, as we too often forget these major historical years, battles and the incredible reasons that we can fly our American Flag today, when the enemy wanted in the worst way to become the world power. The many allies that joined America in this battle have always remained our friends as we have remembered them in war and peace.

The veterans of these battles, and for that matter all veterans, need the continuous adulation of our citizens young and old as I feel that we often take too much for granted, as we salute our flag or watch a veterans ceremony. They were all there in Europe or other locations for us to have freedom. This carries to those who were in battle or back in the states during or between all our wars and conflicts in all branches of the armed services.

One of my major concerns is that the great visuals of last week were watched by our middle and senior age population but did it filter down to the younger generation, who all too often spend more time in their world of cyberspace and less attention to regular broadcast channels on television. Here again, we need to "try" and make sure the specials of last week are talked about and hopefully watched when they occur. A discussion in the home about how we maintained such a world power along with the ways we maintained our independence should be dinner table conversation in all homes in Town Crier land.

Decoding skills — understanding?

In a recent educational publication, Jared Myracle, commented, "while students are making strides with their decoding skills, they must also be building the background on a wide array of topics needed to understand what they read. Instead of learning to read and then reading to learn, students can and should do both at the same time."

He adds that while "vocabulary is like a tiny snowball at the top of a hill, if you can guide it down the right path, it will gradually grow bigger on its own. It just takes a plan and patience."

While this is so easy to say or write, this process is difficult, as from my perception it takes parental time and energy to do the guiding that is called for as well as the patience as referenced. Parental time in our families is at a premium but guess what, I am seeing a change. I am now seeing many workers, who I know, are beginning to refuse positions that will bring more compensation, etc. with the comment on being asked the reason being the desire to spend more time at home or something like "life is too fast" and I want to spend more time with my family. Possibly our life is changing for the better but, parental guidance, presence and patience is crucial.

JUST A NOTE: THANKS so much for your comments and e-mails with several highlighting my extractions from the Morning Pulse including the following: Amazon says drones will be making deliveries in months; younger workers put student loan aid near the top of desired benefits; grads need to erase debt as soon as possible (easier to say than do); US factory orders fall — shipments post largest drop in two years; world economy turns to central banks as warning signs flash red; oil is close to entering the Bear Market; mutual funds are alive and well; Apple unveils privacy tools; artificial intelligence needs guardrails; it's important to have a Last Will and Testament (may I add updated); social component important to physical wellness programs; health plan deductions triple in 10 years and last (a question), is it safe to transition to electronic debit and credit cards?

TPD complete pledge for 'One Mind Campaign'

TEWKSBURY — The Tewksbury Police Department is pleased to announce that they are one of only 10 police departments in the state to complete a pledge they took to improve their response to those suffering from mental illness in their community. The pledge is part of an initiative called the One Mind Campaign started by the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP), a 30,000 member professional association for law enforcement that provides training, technical assistance, and recruitment services.

To join the One Mind Campaign, law enforcement agencies must pledge to implement four promising practices in a 12-36 month period to ensure successful future interactions between police officers and persons with mental illness. Tewksbury undertook the pledge on June 19 of 2017 and finished in early May of 2019.

In the law enforcement community, mental illness has become a common focus, with some departments estimating that as many as 20 percent of their calls for service are related to mental health declines. Chief Timothy Sheehan made the decision to join the International Association of Chiefs of Police's One Mind Campaign because despite organizational philosophical changes, best efforts, additional training, the application of best known and available police practices that include strong partnerships with all the local treatment programs/providers, the courts, correctional facilities, the District Attorney's Office, and area nonprofit organizations the current mental health and opioid crisis continue to be the most significant quality of life issues affecting the community.

In completing the One Mind Pledge, the Tewksbury Police Department established a sustainable partnership with a local mental health organization, developed and implemented a model policy to address officers' interactions with those affected by mental illness, and ensured that all of their officers received some type of mental health awareness training, with at least 20 percent of the department completing the more intensive Crisis Intervention Training.

The 40-hour Crisis Intervention curriculum is designed by local agencies to train a team of specialized officers to respond to calls that involve individuals with mental health disorders such as depression or intellectual disability. The curriculum includes education on various de-escalation techniques as well as live role-play scenarios of officers responding to persons who need mental health assistance.

Other initiatives that the Tewksbury Police Department has pursued in response to the needs of the community include establishing a robust Community Service Unit made up of a mental health/SUD clinician, a recovery coach, a sworn Community Service Officer, a sworn Family Service Officer, and a SUD prevention specialist that staff the Tewksbury Police Department Bridge Program and Regional Jail Diversion Program (BillERICA, Chelmsford, Dracut and Tewksbury).

The two programs center around providing comprehensive services to address the mental health and substance use needs of families as a whole by assessing treatment needs, making recommendations and coordinating care for community members at risk. This is done through the support of the Tewksbury Police Department, Beth Israel Lahey Health Behavioral Services, PAARI, the Department of Mental Health and other community partners/resources.

Ultimately bridging the gap between treatment providers, community partners, and the vulnerable populations in need of services, these initiatives increase awareness and education around behavioral health issues, including substance use disorder, mental illness, increased access to treatment and reduced recidivism.

Police recognize they'll never arrest and incarcerate their way out of this crisis, and that participation in programs/partnerships such as the One Mind Campaign will only increase their chances of stymieing the progress of these diseases that bring families and communities to their knees.

For more information about the One Mind Campaign, please visit the IACP's website: <http://www.theiacp.org/onemindcampaign/>. A list of all agencies who have taken the pledge is also available there.

The Tewksbury Police Department urges any citizens who suspect criminal activity to call the Dispatch Center at 978-851-7373. If you wish to remain anonymous please call the Tip Line at 978-851-0175 or send an email to tewks\_detectives@tewksbury-ma.gov shrublands and grasslands in the northern hemisphere. They were the first to compare those findings with satellite imagery that indicated the dates of leaf-out (when leaves emerge in the spring) and senescence (when leaves fall and plants die off or enter dormancy in autumn) to estimate the length and timing of the growing season, which stayed about the same for that time period.

Earlier leaf-out and/or later senescence can mean a longer growing season, increase in agriculture production and crop yield, as well as an increase in the amount of carbon dioxide absorbed by plants from the atmosphere. However, it can also mean the need for more water use and could affect stream flow and aggravate water crisis issues.

"It's not just about plants, many people are also physically affected by phenological trends," said Xiao. "Anyone suffering from seasonal allergies knows, an earlier spring can mean an earlier allergy season."

Phenological variations also make it more difficult for scientists to estimate the Earth's carbon, water and energy exchange between the atmosphere and the Earth's surface, which can then affect climate change projections.

The scientists admit that the time period they studied, where the Earth's air temperature rate slowed down, may seem to contrast with other research on global warming but they emphasize that even during this period the Earth's temperatures continued to rise. They point out that temporary trends like this one require very long datasets — at least a decade or longer — to properly assess big-picture phenological trends.

Eight students graduate from Endicott College

BEVERLY — Endicott College, the first college in the U.S. to require internships of its students, held its 79th annual commencement exercises this past week. At a May 25 ceremony for Endicott's undergraduate students at Hempstead Stadium on the Endicott campus in Beverly, Mass., the commencement speaker was Garold C. Miller, chief executive officer of HALO, who received an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters at the ceremony.

Of local interest, the following students received degrees:

- TEWKSBURY
- Michael Hood, graduated with a Bachelor Science in Business Administration, Constance Morris
  - Kiera Lawlor, graduated Magna Cum Laude with a Bachelor Science in Environmental Science, Dennis Lawlor & Rosemarie Lawlor
  - Bridget Sears, graduated Magna Cum Laude with a Bachelor Fine Arts in Art Therapy, John Sears & Marie Sears
  - Lauren Strange, graduated Magna Cum Laude with a Bachelor Arts in History, Scott Strange & Lisa Strange

- WILMINGTON
- Kimberly Downs, graduated with a Bachelor Science in Marketing Communication, Donna Downs
  - Tierney McCue, graduated

ed with a Bachelor Science in Biology/Biotechnology, David McCue & Tracy McCue

- Michelle Murray, graduated with a Bachelor Fine Arts in Interior Design, Fred Murray & Sue Murray
- Julia Warren, graduated Magna Cum Laude with a Bachelor Arts in History, Robert Warren & Karen Warren

Miller advised the class of 2019, "Your lease on life doesn't last forever. Take chances. Take calculated risks." He added, "I've heard 'no' hundreds and hundreds of times, but I refused to believe that the things I had built had to be like things that already existed. Society has enough conformists. We need more people who don't give up when they hear 'no.'"

A total of 1,135 students graduated from Endicott's Van Loan School of Graduate & Professional Studies and its traditional undergraduate college. 10 students received a Doctor of Educational Leadership or Doctor of Philosophy; 349 received a Master of Arts, Master of Education, Master of Science, Master of Business Administration, or Master of Fine Arts degree; 760 students received a Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Arts, or Bachelor of Fine Arts degree; and 16 received an Associate in Arts or Associate in Science degree.

Those wearing patriotic colors will have a chance to win $10 lottery scratch tickets, as well as a door prize for 2 free admissions. The band plays foxtrotts, jitterbug, Latin, polka, cha-cha music as well as a line dance in each set. Admission is $10 per person and there is also a 50/50 raffle. Bring along your favorite snacks and beverages. There is free ice nearby and cake, coffee, and tea are served at 9:00 p.m. There is also a $1 soda dispenser on site. Doors open at 6:30. The building features a huge dance floor and full handicapped access with well-lighted parking lot. Come join the fun. Come alone, with a partner, friends, or meet new friends. If you need a table for 8 or more, call the Senior Center at 978-640-4480. Remember that this is the final dance of the season, while the band enjoys a hiatus when these professional musicians travel to their summer performance locations. The next dance won't be until the "3rd Friday" in September! Don't forget your patriotic attire!

Bridge Street Cleanup

Saturday, June 22 from 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.
30 Bridge Street
Celebrate the solstice with a clean-up! Work downstream tree by tree to create passage space in areas with downed trees and snags. Wear appropriate clothing and bring a change of clothes. Helpful items include gloves, small hand saws, loppers, and chainsaws. Contact Laurie Hartwick or Maria Fleming at hartwicklaurie@yahoo.com or mariafleming05@comcast.net for more information.

Lazarus House Drive for Dignity Golf Tournament

Monday, July 15
The Lazarus House's Drive for Dignity golf tournament has earned the reputation as the best charity tournament North of Boston. They are honored to have Tuscan Brands as their premier sponsor. Enjoy excellent golf at the Andover Country club, spectacular culinary experiences, as well as select raffles and auctions to benefit those struggling with poverty and homelessness. To register, visit lazarushouse.org/golf-tournament.

Habitat for Humanity Red Sox Night

Wednesday, Sept. 4 at 7:10 p.m.

Fenway Park in Boston
Habitat for Humanity of Greater Lowell is hosting a Red Sox Night again! Invite all your friends, family, and neighbors to join them to watch the Red Sox play the Minnesota Twins. At just $30 per ticket, this fundraiser is a great way to enjoy a night at Fenway while supporting the construction of affordable homes and critical home repairs for deserving families in Northern Middlesex County. Order tickets by mail with the order form downloadable at bit.ly/homerun4habitat, or order tickets online with a credit card at bit.ly/homerun4habitat. #### Lazarus House Hike for Hope

Sunday, Sept. 29
Each year hundreds of families, faith groups, sports team, and business sponsors take to the streets of Andover and hike for hope. The Lazarus House's walkers walk because it feels good to be among people in the community who care about people in dire need. Many of their participants who walk encourage others to either walk with them or support

Lazarus House Sharing Our Bounty Gala

Saturday, Nov. 16
Sharing Our Bounty is about celebrating the life-changing achievements that you have made possible in the lives of the Lazarus House's guests. This has become Merrimack Valley's most highly regarded and anticipated charity event of the year. A not to be missed memorable evening. For details, visit events@lazarushouse.org.

Alateen

The first and third Thursday of each month
St Williams Church (middle brick building), 1351 Main Street
When there is evidence of alcoholism or drug use in a family, you can see the effects on the other family members, especially young people. Alateen meetings provide mutual support for young people affected by someone else's drinking and drug use. Come speak with teens who know exactly how you feel. The meetings are confidential and a safe place to share experiences, strength, and hope with each other; discuss difficulties; learn effective ways to cope with problems; encourage one another; help each other understand the principles of the Al-Anon program; and learn how to use the Twelve Steps and Alateen's Twelve Traditions. For more information on the Tewksbury meeting, call Maria Ruggiero at 978-851-7373 X352. # Congratulations Shawsheen Tech Class of 2019

Shawsheen grads told to 'make something happen'

Good evening to the staff, families, friends, and the class of 2019.

As my dad has always said to me, "If you want something to happen, you have to make it happen"

As a kid, I brushed off this piece of advice, because all I really wanted to do was watch the newest episode of Hannah Montana. But the phrase certainly wasn't what I had in mind as I donned that "Keep Calm and Be Cool" T-shirt on our first day of high school. Yet over the years, I have found these words to be true.

What my dad meant was that life's too short to wait for opportunities to come along and arrive at your doorstep. You have to create them with the drive you find in yourself.

These four years of high school at Shawsheen have already given us a jumpstart to the endless opportunities that await us. If each of us tap into that drive, we are all capable of doing incredible things. In front of me, I see doctors, dentists, CEOs, chefs, illustrators, carpenters, electricians, engineers... After these four years, it's now time to show the world what we're capable of.

Earning my spot as valedictorian was stressful. But, the experience I had here made it worth it. The Shawsheen experience is all about knowing that if you want something to happen you can make it happen:

- Like Dr. Kanellas' repetitive speeches about the soph-O-mores scoring well on the MCAS, I repeat, soph-O-mores scoring well on MCAS, the soph-O-mores scoring well on MCAS.

- Earning several championship titles, all thanks to our determined coaches that saw potential in us that we never did

- Finding ourselves a spot in a co-op job, where we would move on to continue learning our trade, giving us that opportunity to reach for our future success

- Discovering our passions in clubs, whether it be leadership from Skills USA, writing in the newspaper, or going for a hike with outdoor club.

The Shawsheen experiences we've made for ourselves were also crafted by those that we are the most thankful for:

- The families that have supported us along the way. Mom, dad, Lindsey, thank you for being my number one drive. And, of course, a sincere apology for staying up past 2 a.m. to cram in that last-minute shopweek homework.

- Our teachers and school staff throughout our lives. We certainly wouldn't be sitting here today without the knowledge they've provided us over all these years. A special thank you to retired Superintendent, Charles Lyons, who has left an impact by molding this school into a place where we, and future graduates to come, can achieve such great success. And, of course, to Ms. Angela Cairra, for teaching us to spread kindness to others.

- The coaches that have pushed us to become a better version of ourselves.

- The part-time jobs and volunteer work we've done. I'd personally like to thank the staff at the Boys and Girls Club of Greater Billerica for encouraging me to come out of my shell and inspire others.

• And the everlasting friendships we've made here.

Especially my friends, who deserve as much recognition as I do. You motivated me to do my best while simultaneously convincing me to blow off work. Like that time I went to a spontaneous sheep shearing festival before studying for a final. But I still made it happen by learning how to run on three hours of sleep with the help of several Monster energy drinks!

A sincere thank you to Joe Bova's daily good morning and good night snapchat wisdom and of course to the iconic pencil behind his ear he always let me borrow. Just a special thank you to you guys for motivating and pushing me towards the success I've always strived for inside and outside the classroom.

Looking back now, at the memories you've created, you'll realize that your drive was fueled by those who mean the most to you, those who you are the most thankful for. Hang on to those lessons you've learned; they'll give you that extra push to achieve what you want throughout your adulthood. And maybe you can use them to make an impact on someone else someday.

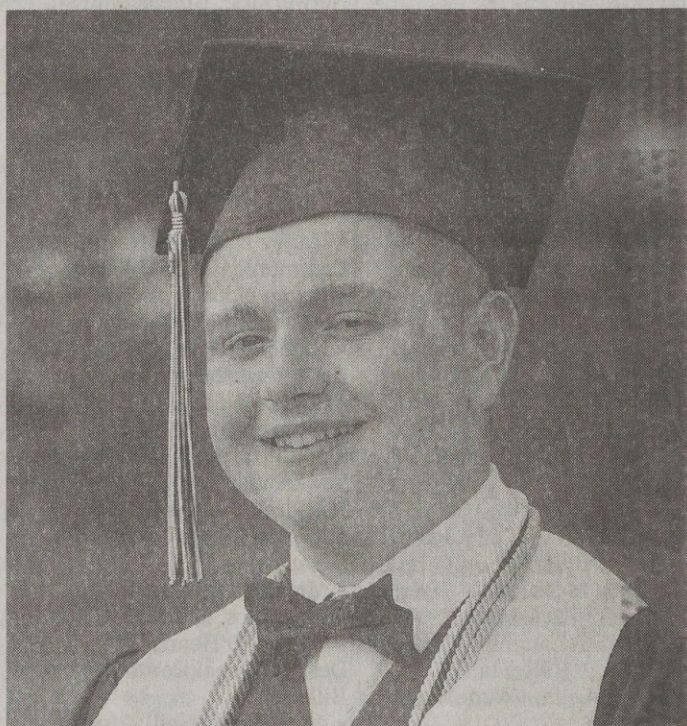

Maybe these weren't the best years of your life, and maybe you didn't take advantage of every opportunity. That's OK. Just take this advice for wherever you may go next. And if that's home to watch another episode of Hannah Montana, that's OK, too, because "life's what you make it, so let's make it rock."

We have our whole lives ahead of us to make what we want to happen, happen. We all start somewhere, and it's the effort that you put in today that will make you an even stronger person tomorrow.

To the class of 2019: Today is the day that we enter a new chapter of our lives, a new adventure full of opportunities that this unique school has given us.

So go, get out there, for this is only the beginning. The word "commencement" does mean a "beginning or start" after all. So as we turn our tassels and tear off those lanyards, keep in mind that there are millions of opportunities out there, and that YOU can make things happen.

I know all of you will inspire, you will discover, you will create. If you want something to happen, you can and you will make it happen.

Thank you and congratulations again to the class of 2019!

GOLF, CAMPING, RACECARS, TREAT DAD THIS FATHER'S DAY

By HEATHER BURNS
News Correspondent

Sunday, June 16, is Father's Day. You may be asking yourself, "What do I get for the man who has everything?" (because, after all, he has you as his kid, so what more could he need, right)? But, seriously, if you struggle to find the perfect gift for the dad in your life, why not try something new? Spending quality time with dad doing one of his favorite activities might just fit the bill for the perfect Father's Day gift.

A great place to spend Father's Day for the outdoorsmen is Harold Parker State Forest, located at 305 Middleton Road in North Andover. Harold Parker offers 35 miles of trails and 11 ponds. Fishing and non-motorized boating is allowed on all 11 ponds, giving you quite a selection for a relaxing afternoon of fishing with dad, and parking is only $5 for MA residents.

But keep in mind, everyone age 15 or older in Massachusetts is required to have a fishing license. Fishing licenses can be obtained online or from most town halls, so make sure you and dad have a valid license before heading out with your fishing gear.

Perhaps your father is a microbrewery enthusiast. Then try the Oak and Iron Brewery, located at 18 Red Spring Road in Andover. The Oak and Iron features over 15 different brewed beers on tap for every flavor palette. From dark and roasty porter to crisp cream lager, and even seasonal flavored ales, there is something sure to please any beer connoisseur. Enjoy snacks and music at the indoor tap room, or have lively conversation over your favorite ale at the outdoor beer garden overlooking the scenic Shawsheen River.

Maybe your dad fancies himself in the Indy 500 everytime he gets behind the wheel. If so, the K1 Speed

Tewksbury Country Club
(Heather Burns photos)

Boston Indoor Go-Kart Race-track, 40 Fordham Road in Wilmington, is the place to go! K1 offers electric go-kart racing for adults and juniors seven days a week. (There is a height requirement minimum of 48" for juniors, and 58" for adults).

But be warned, these are not your average amusement park type go-karts. Dad can fulfill his need for speed, as these karts can reach speeds of almost 45mph. For information on pricing and to see a layout of the indoor track, visit www.k1speed.com.

Some dads love anything with four wheels. For the automobile enthusiast, Father's Day is a great time for a road trip to the "Father's Day Car Show," located at 334 Old Oak St. in Pembroke, MA. This car show features a large selection of antique and hot rod vehicles on display, as well as music, raffles, food trucks and activities to keep the kids occupied. The show is held Sunday, June 16 from 12:30 to 3 p.m. and admission is free.

Many moms and wives consider themselves "golf widows." If this is true in your family, then why not spend some time with dad in his favorite element? Treat dad to 18 holes at the Tewksbury Country Club, located at 1880

Main St. in Tewksbury. TCC features over 50 acres of manicured greens, and is open to the public. For information about making a tee time, visit www.tewksburycc.com.

We all know that dad is really a kid at heart, so satisfy his "inner child" with a trip to Kimball Farms, 400 Littleton Road in Westford. Besides offering over 50 flavors of award winning, homemade ice cream, they also feature many classic summertime, fun activities. With batting cages, mini golf, ziplining, and bumper boats, you can keep dad's "inner kid" happy and entertained for hours this Father's Day. Sometimes dad's favorite place to be is just relaxing at his own "castle." The best gift for dad might just be a bag of his favorite snack food while he relaxes in his recliner watching a sporting event or movie. The rest of the family can pitch in to do some yard work, clean the garage, or detail his car, allowing him a few hours of guilt free rest and relaxation. This year, skip the generic gifts of neck ties and wallets, and spend some much appreciated time with "dear ol' dad." Whether it's racing around the track, enjoying a micro brewed beer, or simply helping out with some chores around the house, the gift of your time and company will make for his favorite Father's Day gift.

Lifestyle

Visit Shawsheen Valley Tech for dining? Yes

By PAIGE IMPINK
News Correspondent

paige@yourtowncrier.com

I had the chance recently to enjoy lunch somewhere you might not think of — at a local vocational technical high school. The Ram's Head

Dining Room, a full-service restaurant, is located in the Shawsheen Valley Regional Technical High School in Billerica and is the "shop" component of the curriculum for students who study the culinary arts.

Though the school year is over, this is a wonderful lunch place to add to your plans for the next school year. The dining room is open Wednesday through Friday with two seatings, one at 11:30 a.m. and one at 12 p.m. Reservations are recommended. There are many "regulars" who are devoted followers of the restaurant and keep this gem a secret. They only accept cash, as an aside.

On the day we visited, the dining room was full. Tables were set with linen napkins and fresh flowers. A student server presented us with a menu and took our beverage order. A full menu was presented including soup, salad variety, and numerous entrees, as well as a vegetarian option, and more. A signature popover roll is brought to each diner by a special server carrying a basket and tongs.

There is a bakery on site which is also open to the public Wednesday through Friday from 9 a.m. - 12 p.m. Butter and rolls are at every table, and meals are extremely reasonably priced given the generous quantity of food served.

Our meals were delivered in a timely manner, hot and attractively plated, and coffee and water was offered frequently. Our server was ready to whisk away our empty plates just as soon as we had finished.

We chose the baked haddock meal garnished with calamari in a fresh tomato sauce which came with gratin potatoes, brown sugared carrots, cornbread portion, and an elegant garnish of fresh citrus slice with julienned beet strings. If it weren't so delicious, I would have taken home half for another day!

The dessert choices were presented attractively on a tray and included individual cheesecakes with strawberries and whipped cream, a brownie with fudge sauce, blueberry buckle, lemon mousse cake, tapioca pudding and a gelatin parfait. For $0.75 we couldn't pass it up, and of course, had to try it to give a credible review.

The dining room is staffed on a rotating basis by seniors and sophomores, then juniors and freshmen. Whether it is cooking and plating the food, busing the tables or hustling as the waitstaff, students are exposed to the full range of food service jobs. The public provides the real-world clientele and there was even an unfortunate crashing of dishes on the floor, an all-too-real scenario, which instructors handled quickly and reassuringly with the students.

The Ram's Head dining room also has an extensive list of take-out meals ready for purchase. This is a tremendous option for your freezer. Just call ahead or stop by and you can choose from a list of frozen meals, sold at very affordable prices and in single or family sizes. Entrée examples include chicken Wellington, macaroni and cheese with ham, and soups such as clam chowder and chicken lemon soup with rice. And keep your eyes open for the Shawsheen Tech food truck, which will be the Tewksbury Farmers Market this summer.

Several other technical high schools offer lunch during the school year such as Greater Lawrence Tech in Andover and Nashoba Valley Tech in Westford. Consider supporting these students as they learn the food service trade and enjoy a wonderful and affordable meal next fall at one of the area's best kept secrets!

Visit www.shawsheentech.org and search for "guest dining."

Wilmington Police Log

Male arrested for three counts of assault and battery

Monday, June 3:

12:08 a.m.: Wilmington Animal Control took a dog to Bulger Veterinary Hospital in North Andover after its leg was broken in a rollover in Andover.

11:55 a.m.: After speaking with Tufts Veterinary Center about an injured baby goose by Benevento Sand and Stone of Salem Street, Animal Control took course advised by the veterinary center and monitored it without interfering.

Tuesday, June 4:

5:22 a.m.: The Fire Department responded to a call on Avalon Drive about an odor of gas.

10:43 a.m.: A motor vehicle collision occurred at the intersection of Burlington Avenue and Webber Street. Neither the Toyota Prius nor the Honda Pilot involved in the collision deployed its airbags, and no one was injured.

4:01 p.m.: An employee at the Learning Center on Main Street reported a group of teens loitering at the old Sonic building even when asked to move. The teens broke a window and fled before police arrived and the employee could not provide a description or a direction in which they fled. Police attempted to contact the property owner but could not determine who the current owner is.

Wednesday, June 5:

3:49 a.m.: 12 or more vehicles in the Avalon Drive area were entered overnight. The vehicles were rummaged through, several of them with their glove compartments emptied into the cars. Several items were stolen from the vehicles, including the contents of a wallet and some paperwork.

11:45 a.m.: Animal Control went to retrieve the injured baby goose on Salem Street but could not find it; they resolved to come back the next day.

12 p.m.: A Buick LeSabre and a tractor trailer were in a motor vehicle collision at the intersection of Woburn Street and Concord Street. Both vehicles remained driveable and no one was injured.

2:53 p.m.: A Chevrolet Equinox rear ended a Honda CR-V on Lowell Street. The damage to the vehicles was minor.

6:14 p.m.: Police wrote a driver a warning for speeding and following too close after a person was injured in a collision involving a Chevrolet 1500 and an International truck. A Fire Department medical vehicle was called to Ballardvale Street for the injuries.

7:38 p.m.: A minor collision occurred in the Pizza Mia parking lot on Middlesex Avenue. A Chevrolet Trax and an Infiniti Q50 were damaged.

Thursday, June 6:

10:47 a.m.: Animal Control brought the injured baby goose from Salem Street to Tufts Veterinary Hospital.

3:14 p.m.: A minor motor vehicle collision involving a Mazda 3 and a Subaru Outback occurred at the intersection of Shawshen Avenue and Hopkins Street.

5:27 p.m.: A Nissan Frontier and a Kia Optima were involved in a minor motor vehicle collision at the intersection of Middlesex Avenue and Salem Street.

Friday, June 7:

1:46 p.m.: A minor motor vehicle collision occurred on Laurel Avenue involving a Hyundai Sonata and an Acura TL.

3:13 p.m.: After a large snapping turtle was hit by a car, Animal Control retrieved it and brought it to a location for the Turtle Rescue Group to pick it up.

3:38 p.m.: A Jeep Grand Cherokee and a Harley Davidson motorcycle were in a collision at the intersection of Salem Street and Cunningham Street.

6:11 p.m.: The Fire Department assisted Reading Light with an arching wire on Draper Drive.

Saturday, June 8:

8:51 a.m.: The Fire Department responded to a reported odor of gasoline at Santander on Main Street.

10:53 a.m.: A Mercedes GL450 was hit by an unknown vehicle while parked and unattended at Target on Ballardvale Street.

12:10 p.m.: Kevin MacDonald, 56, of 140 Andover St. was arrested for three counts of assault and battery with a dangerous weapon and threatening to commit a crime. He was bailed and released to a relative.

12:58 p.m.: A Honda CR-V struck a bicycle at the intersection of Jacquith Road and Hardin Street. The bicyclist did not need medical attention.

6:15 p.m.: Animal Control contacted the Turtle Rescue Group after a live turtle was found with a cracked shell.

Sunday, June 9:

10:58 a.m.: A motor vehicle collision occurred on Andover Street involving a Nissan Altima and a Honda Fit.

12:00 p.m.: The Fire Department was called in after a resident was bitten by a dog on Presidential Drive. The resident's leg was cleaned off.

The Golden Rule has always guided the owners and staff at Tewksbury Funeral Home. Caring for and guiding the family of a loved one who has passed is the most important part of our service.

A family of service minded people intent on helping the community in many ways, the Deputat family has helped charter and is a member of several civic organizations in Tewksbury.

When one visits the funeral home one is steeped in the town's history. The building was built over a century ago and has been in the family well over half that time. Lovingly restored and improved by hand by Walter Deputat, the facility is designed to accommodate large and small gatherings, all in the comfort of our up-to-date building.

We invite families to contact us in time of need or for preplanning. We are dedicated to providing the very best facilities, a full range of merchandise, and the finest funeral services at a reasonable cost.

We are committed to serving Tewksbury and the surrounding towns with compassionate services at a cost that only a family owned provider can offer.

Our goal is to not only to meet, but to exceed, our client expectations.

Lifton named to Dean's List at Hamilton College

CLINTON, NY — Kimberly Lifton, of Wilmington, has been named to the Dean's List at Hamilton College for the 2019 spring semester.

To be named to the Dean's List, a student must have carried throughout the semester a course load of four or more graded credits with an average of 3.5 or above.

Lifton is a rising senior majoring in history and literature.

Originally founded in 1793 as the Hamilton-Oneida Academy, Hamilton College offers an open curriculum that gives students the freedom to shape their own liberal arts education within a research- and writing-intensive framework. Hamilton enrolls 1,850 students from 49 states and 49 countries.

Additional information about the college can be found at www.hamilton.edu.

Palermo graduates from Cummings School of Veterinary Medicine at Tufts

MEDFORD/SOMERVILLE — Samantha Palermo, of Wilmington, recently graduated from Cummings School of Veterinary Medicine at Tufts University during its 37th commencement ceremony on May 19. Palermo was one of 157 students, whose studies varied from veterinary medicine to the intersection of animals and public policy, to infectious disease and global health.

Across all schools at Tufts University, more than 3,500 graduate and undergraduate students were awarded degrees during the university's annual commencement, which featured an address by award-winning actress and activist Alfre Woodard.

Founded in 1978 in North Grafton, Mass., Cummings School of Veterinary Medicine at Tufts University is internationally esteemed for academic programs that impact society and the practice of veterinary medicine; seven teaching hospitals and clinics that combined log more than 100,000 animal cases each year; and groundbreaking research that benefits animal, human, and environmental health.

Minutemen on parade

Bridget Sullivan returns following research project

WORCESTER — Bridget Sullivan of Wilmington, a member of the class of 2020 majoring in mechanical engineering at Worcester Polytechnic Institute (WPI), was a member of a student team that recently completed an intense, hands-on research through the WPI project center in Moscow.

The project was titled Promoting Interest in Informatics among Russian Secondary School Students. In their project summary, the students wrote, "This project sought to assist Mail.ru Group in addressing the identified shortage of technical talent that emanates from inadequacies in the Russian education system."

At WPI, all undergraduates are required to complete a research-driven, professional-level project that applies science and technology to addresses an important societal need or issue. About two-thirds of students complete a project at one of the university's 50-plus off-campus project centers, which are located around the world.

A signature element of the innovative undergraduate experience at WPI, the project-based curriculum offers students the opportunity to apply their scientific and technical knowledge to develop thoughtful solutions to real problems that affect the quality of people's lives and make a difference before they graduate.

"The WPI project-based curriculum's focus on global studies brings students out of the classroom and into the global community to apply their knowledge and to solve problems," said Professor Kent Riss-miller, interim dean of the WPI Interdisciplinary and Global Studies Division. "Students are immersed in all aspects of a different culture, from the way people live and work to the values they hold to the foods they eat — all valuable perspectives for surviving and thriving in today's global marketplace. They also learn the meaning and magic of teamwork; make a real and meaningful difference in their host community; and gain a competitive edge for any resume, or graduate or professional school application."

Class of 2019 bids goodbye to Wilmington High

By LIZZIE MCDERMOTT
News Correspondent

WILMINGTON — On June 2, 2019, Wilmington High School bid goodbye to its senior class of 2019. The ceremony was held in the high school gymnasium and was attended by family members, teachers, staff members, and a number of community leaders.

Class president Joseph Wilson opened the ceremony with words of encouragement and optimism for his classmates. He urged the class to do things that they love.

"I have no doubt in my mind that each and every one of us, whether we follow our current dreams or we pave a whole new road for ourselves in college... will be successful," Wilson said.

Town Manager Jeff Hull spoke next, likening the graduates' current place in life to a traffic rotary and encouraging them to consider the roads ahead and to look for opportunities for growth.

"I suggest that you pause, take a deep breath or two, and look for the lessons," said Hull.

School Committee Chair Jennifer Bryson spoke next, and addressed the parents and guardians of the graduating class.

"You have done an exemplary job of preparing your children to embrace life and make a difference in this world," Bryson said.

Bryson also congratulated the students, noting the large amount of work asked of today's high school students.

"You worked hard, you've been working hard for years and you've earned this moment," she said.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Glenn Brand reflected on getting to know the class of 2019 over the course of his first year in the district. He referenced the "Wildcat C.I.R.C.L.E. of values," consisting of community, inclusivity, respect, collaboration, learning, and engagement, which the district worked to identify this year as being representative of the community as a whole.

"Perhaps with some luck, these values can become nuggets that you will cling to and remember," said Brand.

"These values are a piece of the Wilmington cloth where you have taken roots so please, I hope, take them with you."

Principal Linda Peters spoke about the value of education and learning.

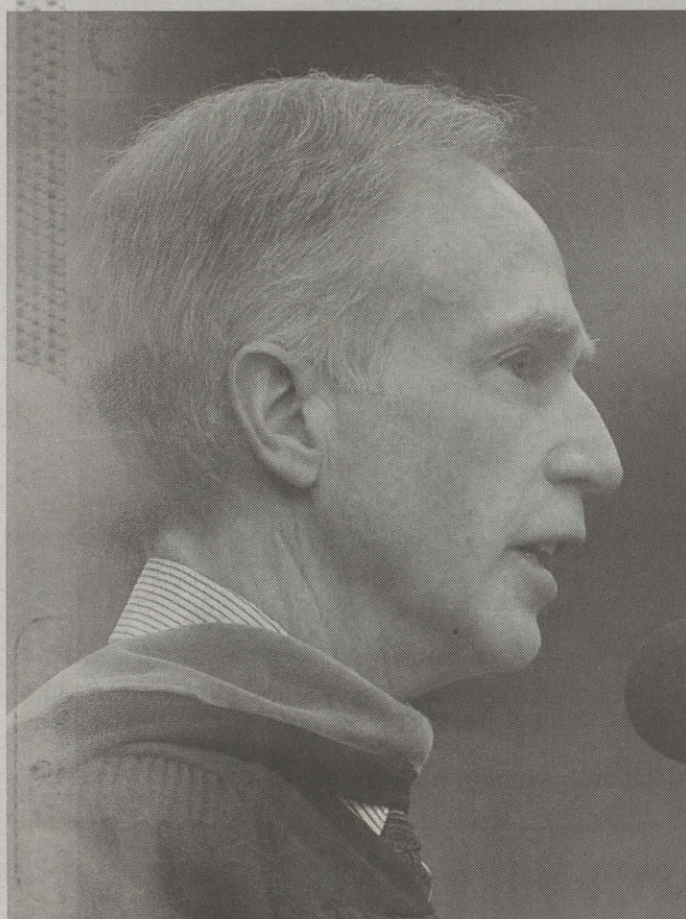

"There is something truly amazing about being in the presence of learning, it is almost magical," she said.

Peters also extended her best wishes to the class of 2019, saying that she hoped each student always had somebody to cheer them on and sharing a poem she had written specifically for this class.

"Where will you go, what will you do? Your plans your future your dreams, I hope they all come true."

She expressed deep gratitude for the graduates.

"I truly cannot thank you enough for making me the luckiest principal on earth."

Student speakers address ambition and gratitude

By LIZZIE MCDERMOTT
News Correspondent

WILMINGTON — For Wilmington High School class of 2019 Salutatorian Mindy Duggan, the role is a family affair. As Duggan explained in her address, her grandmother was Wilmington High School salutatorian in 1956.

Her grandmother addressed the graduating class of 1956 in the old high school, with a speech called "The End and the Beginning."

In the course of preparing for her own graduation, Duggan read her grandmother's high school yearbook. It contained a section called Ambition.

"Her ambition was to work two and one half years before she got married, which she did accomplish," said Duggan with a smile, noting that times have changed.

Duggan also took time to thank teachers and family, and to encourage her classmates to embrace their own ambition.

"I have no doubt that each and every one of you will make a difference in the world, whether it be big or small," she said.

Essayist Amie Russell and Valedictorian Samantha Marzi also addressed the class during the ceremony.

"Everyone is at different points in their life, and that's OK. I just wanted to say thank you to all of my teachers, friends, and family, who have led me to where I am today," said Russell.

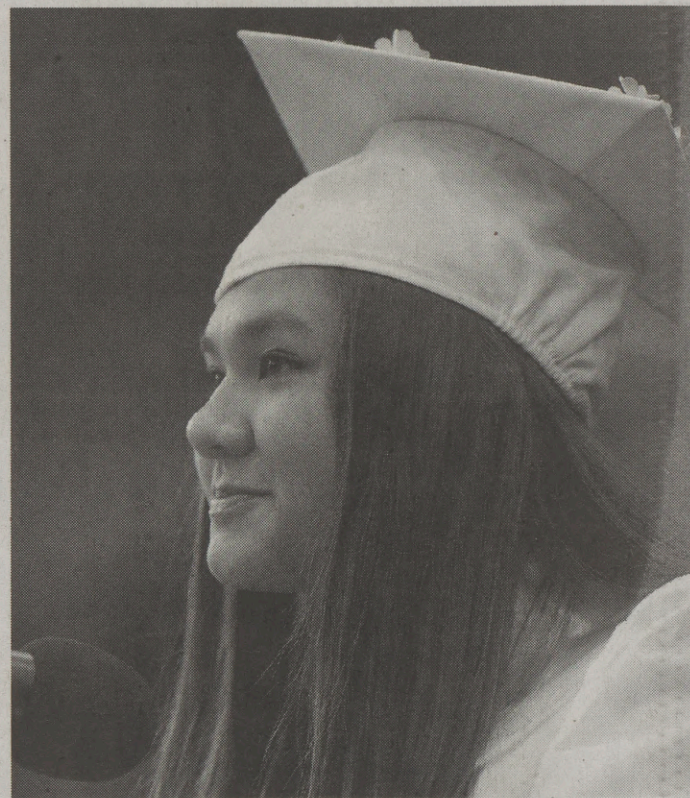

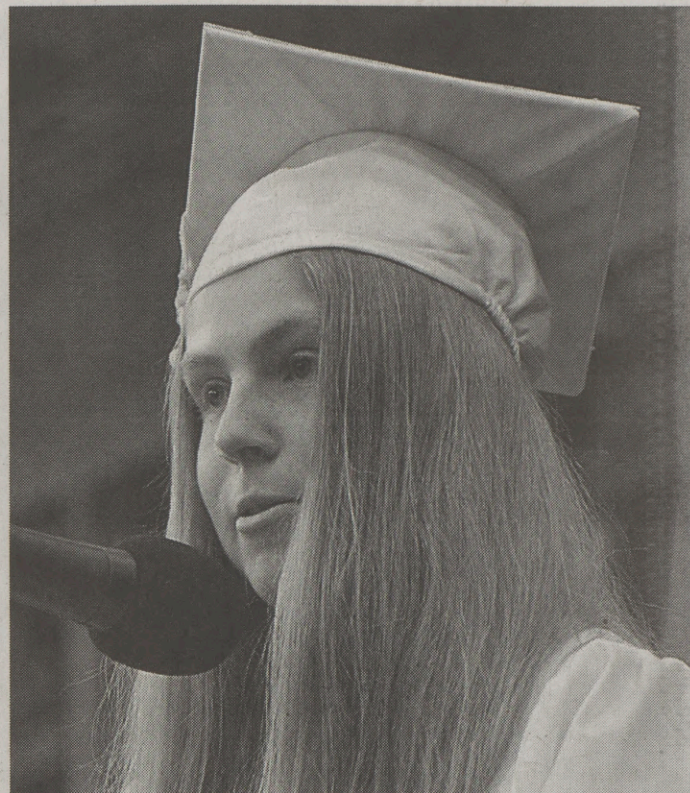

Marzi noted that she, like the rest of her classmates, could not be sure of what the future holds.

"No matter what you end up doing next year, or with the rest of your life, just have fun with it," she said.

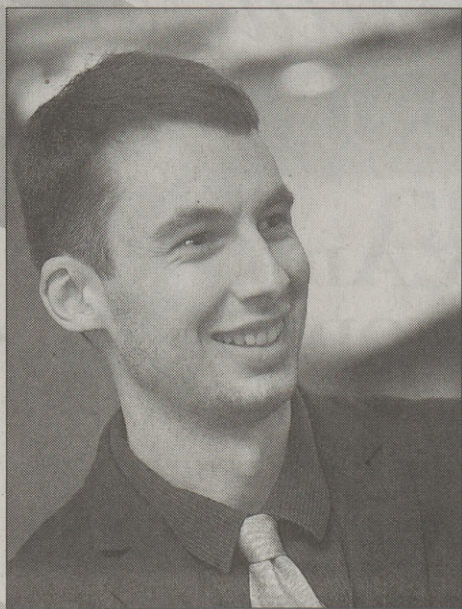

"If it means living in a bunker and waiting for the zombie apocalypse for the rest of your life, make sure you bring plenty of movies to watch," she added. "Or if that means going to medical school and discovering the next medical breakthrough, or majoring in education and becoming a part of the next generation of teachers, please do it."

Chris Stokes heading to Notre Dame Three-sport captain finishes off career

WILMINGTON -- There is a tendency, often because of their youth, for talented high school athletes to lay blame with lesser experienced teammates for sports seasons that didn't turn out as well as anticipated. And then there is Wilmington High School's Chris Stokes, a three-sport varsity athlete, who took it all in stride when wins were scarce for the teams he was part of during his senior year. In fact, Stokes was mature beyond his 18 years when he actually put a positive spin on the shortcomings. "It kind of depends on how you look at it," Stokes answered, when asked how he felt about his participation with a trio of struggling teams. "For me, it did make things tougher, but at the same time, it gave me an opportunity to foster some of the younger kids and help them grow into their sports. When they find success in the future, I'll hopefully be able to say that I played a role in their development." Stokes, a lifelong Wilmington resident who recently graduated as a member of the Class of 2019, will soon make the trek to Indiana to join the Fighting Irish family at historic Notre Dame University.

Dracut prevails in Division 3 North preliminary round game

Terrific season comes to an end for the Wildcats

By DAN ZIMMERMAN
Sports Correspondent

sports@yourtowncrier.com
WILMINGTON -- The Wilmington Wildcats baseball team walked on to Scanlon Field Thursday afternoon owning a slightly better win-loss record than their opponent and had scored in double figures in four of seven games down the stretch. Some thought it was shaping up to be a classic early playoff duel.

Two hours later, the Cats' abruptly exited that same field for the last time this season after falling 11-1 to the Dracut Middies in the preliminary round of the MIAA North Division 3 tournament.

No. 18-seed Dracut (10-11) put up a three-spot in the second, added a run in the fourth, two in the sixth, and rubbed salt in the wound with five more in the seventh and mercifully, last inning. No. 15 Wilmington, meanwhile, could only manage six hits against Dracut starter Patrick Crowley and a single run late in the contest.

Dracut advanced to meet No. 2 Gloucester in the next round and were eliminated, while Wilmington wraps up the season at 10-11 overall.

As is often the case in the post-season, highly-charged emotions and frustration of a lopsided score can trigger quarrels over official's decisions. In the top of the sixth, for instance, Wilmington relief pitcher Ryan Collins was signaled for a balk which allowed a Dracut baserunner on third to saunter home for his team's sixth run. Collins made a derogatory comment to the second base official, who promptly ejected him.

In the bottom of the same inning, the Wildcats finally manufactured a run. Gavin Kelsey led off, drilling a fastball to left. Tristan Ciampa popped up and was followed by Brendan George, who lifted a one-out blast to deep center, sending Kelsey home to snap the shutout. Unfortunately, George tested the arm of Dracut center-fielder Daniel Robichaud who erased him trying to stretch it. The tag at third was close but called in Dracut's favor. The Wilmington bench, coaches and players alike, erupted in shouting and insisted that the umpire overturn the call. He wasn't having it, however.

Ciampa got the start and gave up a lead-off basehit and a one-out walk before shaking off the butterflies and stranding a pair. Crowley duplicated his counterpart's first inning work, yielding a walk and the Wildcat's first hit of the afternoon, a Kelsey one-out single, before retiring the side and leaving two on.

Dracut rendered two-out damage in the second frame to take a 3-0 lead. Third baseman Devin Lambert sent one to the fence in right for a lead-off triple and later scored on a Wilmington fielding error. The Middies added a pair of baserunners and advanced both into scoring position on steals. Sean McMeniman plated the duo before Ciampa got out of the inning.

The junior hurler fared much better in the third, retiring the side on just four pitches. But Dracut added a run in the middle frame off a lead-off double and more aggressive baserunning.

A tiring Ciampa was relieved by Collins whose brief time on the mound was marred by a pair of passed balls and an unearned Dracut run to make it 6-0.

Sophomore James McGarron saw relief action in the seventh but in hindsight, probably wished he hadn't. Dracut batted around the order plus one, adding five runs on five hits including back-to-back two-out doubles.

Wilmington pinch-hitter Vincent Scalfani, a fan favorite, ripped a basehit to center triggering a rousing cheer from his teammates. He reached second on a passed ball and third on a ground ball out. But like the majority of his predecessors in this game best forgotten, remained standing on base when the last out was recorded.

Wilmington's finish, at .500, is something to build on for next season. Only five players depart via graduation leaving the majority of the club intact. Seniors include Peter Marino, Michael Fiorenza, Chris Stokes, Ryan Collins, and Gavin Kelsey.

Nearly one hundred people participate in third annual Recovery and Wellness 5K event

By DAN ZIMMERMAN
Sports Correspondent

sports@yourtowncrier.com
WILMINGTON -- Mother Nature smiled upon the organizers of the 3rd Annual 5K Run for Recovery & Walk for Wellness, staged last Sunday morning from the Wilmington Town Common. Runners, walkers, and spectators alike were treated to picture-perfect conditions, featuring bright sunshine, and temps near seventy.

Nearly one hundred participants turned out to support this exceptional event which honors the memory of the late Timothy Brady and raises funds in his name. Brady lost his life to addiction several years ago, at the age of 28, prompting close friends Renee Marcou wire-to-wire, outpacing his nearest competition by nearly a half mile.

"I planned on going out fast today but not quite that fast," said Adamek when asked to explain his jackrabbit strategy at the outset. "But I settled into a comfortable pace and without anyone pushing me, I let my watch dictate the race for me."

A pair of Wilmington runners competing in the masters division followed the front runner across the line. 44-year-old Tom O'Shea took second overall in 20:21, followed closely by third place finisher Christopher Brady, 45, in a time of 20:40.

Yaritza Robles, 24, made the trip over from Lawrence to claim the laurels for the women, finishing in 24:13.

"I've run a number of these Wilmington road races in the recent past and this is one of my favorites," said Robles, who remarkably trains just once or twice a week. "This course is great. The whole town is great. The people here are just awesome."

Robles took up running just last year on the suggestion of a friend. She tried it once and was "hooked," as she described it.

Wilmington's Jen Engstrom, 48, was the second female finisher in 25:16 while Jen Brady was just :10 seconds back in 25:26.

Ninety-four finishers, ranging in age from 5 to 68, contributed 3.1-miles to wrap up the 3rd Annual 5K Run for Recovery. Most, including Marcou, hope for larger turnouts in the future. This event has the capacity to accommodate four or five times as many entrants and the organizer's unparalleled amenities should be a draw. But the competition for runners is huge, with several other Eastern Mass. events taking place during the same time frame.

"We are definitely looking for more people to take part," said Marcou. "We prepared for a huge event and we have so much to offer for families and children, we just hope more runners and walkers will consider us in the years ahead."

Adamek takes top spot at 5K event

By JOSH CAREDEO
Sports Correspondent

sports@yourtowncrier.com
WILMINGTON- At a young age, Gregory Adamek, 16, has already some high accolades as a member of the Wilmington High cross-country and track programs.

Adamek, who will be entering his senior year in the fall, recently ran a personal best 4:38.26 mile at the MIAA East Division III Eastern Mass Championships several weeks ago, among many other successful races.

"I just came out of [finishing] track, so running a 5K is a little difficult for me right now," he said.

Adamek looked to put the difficulty aside as the third Annual 5K Run for Recovery and Walk for Wellness began on Sunday morning.

Once the siren went off, Gregory got off to a fast start -- taking the lead and never relinquishing it -- as he had one goal in mind.

"I was trying to go a 5:30 pace the whole way so that I could run a 17:00 flat," he said.

As he turned the corner at the mile marker, Adamek wanted to maintain a quick stride.

"Well I think I went out a little fast going on Wildwood Avenue. Once I [went past Wildwood], I started going for it," he said.

That strategy didn't seem to work in his favor as he reached mile two.

"It was definitely too fast for what I could've handled, so I slowed down at the after the second mile," said Adamek.

Once he reached the third mile, Adamek turned on the jets again.

When asked why he sprints at various parts of the race, especially the last 100 meters, Gregory's answer was simple.

"That's just something that I do on my own, some people try to speed up the last mile, but for me I build up to that sprint there that's what I do in a mile run, it just seems to work, I pass a lot of people [at the end]," he said.

Adamek finished with a time of 17:41, good for the best overall finish among the registered runners at this race.

Not only does Adamek see the importance of maintaining running shape, he also recognizes those the community who are in need.

"I like doing stuff for charity, and it's a Sunday afternoon, so I have nothing better to do, so I'm really glad I get to go out and do something that can help others, especially those in need."

It's only inevitable that Adamek's stock with continue to rise as he goes through WHS and their track/cross country system.

"Over the summer, I'm going to train for it, and hopefully come fall I will be at my best," he said.

and Michael O'Connor to launch Brady's Foundation.

"As you can see, with all the tables we have here today offering information on recovery from substance abuse, our effort continues to expand," said Marcou, gesturing toward the volunteers at the ready to lend their expertise. "We can't express our gratitude enough to those who have supported us over the last three years."

First to return to the start-finish line opposite the gazebo in a winning time of 17:41, was Wilmington's Greg Adamek. The sixteen-year-old, who plies his running trade at the nearby Wilmington High School, led

They may have been a little confused as to which way to send the runners but Chris Noon (left) and Andrew O'Neill could be found on the race course encouraging the runners. (photo by JoeBrownphotos.com).

Harris makes a great impression

By JOSH CAREDEO
Sports Correspondent

sports@yourtowncrier.com
WILMINGTON- When you are new to a community, you want to be able to make a good first impression among fellow residents.

Maureen Harris, 34, moved to Wilmington from Nashua, New Hampshire about six months ago. She was looking for a new town to thrive in.

"I wanted to see the community, see some of the routes, it's beautiful," she said.

Harris decided to make her mark by running the 3rd Annual 5K Run for Recovery and Walk for Wellness.

Harris said that Sunday marked her 15th time that she participated in a 5K race in her lifetime, but this event was the first she has run in a while. However, she knew she had to run it once she set foot in Wilmington.

"I was like I have to do this, I know so many people, thankfully not directly, who have either passed or who are struggling through it now, so I feel strongly about this, and it was important to make a good impression on the community, I'm so glad I went through with this," said Harris.

Harris ran for her college team in upstate New York, but ankle and hip injuries, as well as shin splints, derailed her career by the end of school.

"Being a typical runner, I am strong headed, and I was like 'I can do this,' and then it was like I'm not suited to," she said.

Olympic lifting, walking her dog, and basically no cardio or endurance work got Harris to the point where she figured she would try running again.

Once the siren went off at the start line, it was full systems go for Harris.

"I was a little worried at first because the description said rolling hills, which means mountainous, but it was pretty flat, beautiful, lots of shade and sidewalks, so I felt completely safe... good markings, police routes, they made it easy, it was a great choice," she said.

A lot was going through Harris' mind as she reached the one-mile marker.

"Don't get injured; when I reached the one mile, I was like 'oh no' it's only been a mile," Harris giggled. "I was like; alright let's see if we can finish this, in a good way, because I always get the competitive bug eventually."

The same could be said as Harris reached mile two, but with more positive insight.

"Don't get stupid, keep with your pace, it's been working so keep with it," she said. I felt good because the stuff that has been bothering me lately wasn't at all."

Turning on to Wildwood

Avenue and into the home stretch, Harris went toe to toe with another female runner, and she could feel it slowly getting away from her.

"When you're neck and neck with someone, you have to at least try, especially because I was ahead of her, so I feel like something was taken away from me, so I tried to push it as much as I could," said Harris.

Once she crossed the finish line, not only were there feelings of nostalgia from her college days, but Harris also felt a sense of accomplishment.

"I was surprised that I still had some kick, but I felt good, strong, but also like I wanted to puke," she said.

Harris finished with a time of 25:43, good for eleventh overall, and the second best female finish.

Overall, Maureen Harris made an Olympic sized impression on the town of Wilmington.

Gillis, Vanderbilt, heading to College World Series

NASHVILLE, Tenn. - No. 2 national seed Vanderbilt begins its title hunt against No. 7 national seed Louisville at 1 p.m. Sunday from the College World Series at TD Ameritrade Park in Omaha, Nebraska, the NCAA announced Monday night. The contest can be seen on ESPN and heard on WNSR 560 AM/95.9 FM and VUCommodores.com.

The first game Saturday is scheduled for 1 p.m. and features No. 8 national seed Texas Tech against Michigan on ESPN. Saturday's second game features No. 5 national seed Arkansas against Florida State and is scheduled for 6 p.m. on ESPN.

No. 6 national seed Mississippi State will square off against Auburn on ESPN2 at 6 p.m. following the opener between the Commodores and Cardinals.

The losers of Saturday's two games will play at 1 p.m. Monday on ESPN, while Saturday's winners face off at 6 p.m. Monday on ESPN. The losers of Sunday's games will play each other at 1 p.m. Tuesday on ESPN. Sunday's winners will meet Tuesday at 6 p.m. on ESPN.

Vanderbilt and Louisville are meeting for the second time at the event. The Dore began their 2014 championship run with a 5-3 win against the Cardinals. Dansby Swanson doubled in two runs, and Bryan Reynolds tripled in another to help the Commodores beat Louisville for the first time in four tries.

The Commodores are making their fourth College World Series appearance in nine seasons and first since 2015. Vanderbilt has matched a program record with 54 wins en route to capturing both the SEC regular season and tournament title for the second time in program history (2007).

To get to the World Series tournament, Vanderbilt won the Super Regionals beating Duke in a best out of three series. Wilmington resident Jackson Gillis, who last Wednesday was drafted by the Milwaukee Brewers, didn't participate in any of the three games.

In the first game on Friday night, the Duke Blue Devils struck early and often while taking advantage of Vanderbilt mishaps en route to an 18-5 win.

The result halted Vanderbilt's 12-game win streak and marked the most runs allowed by a Vanderbilt (52-11) team in NCAA Tournament history. Duke (35-25) scored in five different innings and finished a blistering .407 (11-for-27) with runners on base.

Duke scored four times in the third highlighted by a three-run home run from senior Kyle Gallagher. The left fielder turned on a 1-1 pitch from Vanderbilt starter Drake Fellows (12-1), lacing his eighth home run of the season into the left field bleachers for a 6-2 advantage.

Fellows struggled with his command, walking three batters while connecting for a strike in 52 percent of his 90 pitches. The right-hander allowed seven runs (five earned) on seven hits while striking out a season-low three batters in four innings.

Philip Clarke (2-for-4) crushed a two-run homer into right field in the fifth and Austin Martin (2-for-3) added a sacrifice fly an inning later to cut Vanderbilt's deficit to 7-5. The homer was the eighth for Clarke who entered the day third in the SEC in RBIs and registered his 26th multi-hit performance.

Duke grabbed a run back in the seventh and broke things open in the eighth with the first 10 batters reaching and all nine batters contributing one run. The Blue Devils scored 10 times, the most allowed in a single frame by the Commodores this season.

Blue Devils' right-hander Ben Gross (8-4) worked around five walks while allowing seven hits and five runs in 5.1 innings. Five Duke batters logged multiple hits including Gallagher (2-for-4) and Erikson Nichols (2-for-6) who each contributed four RBIs.

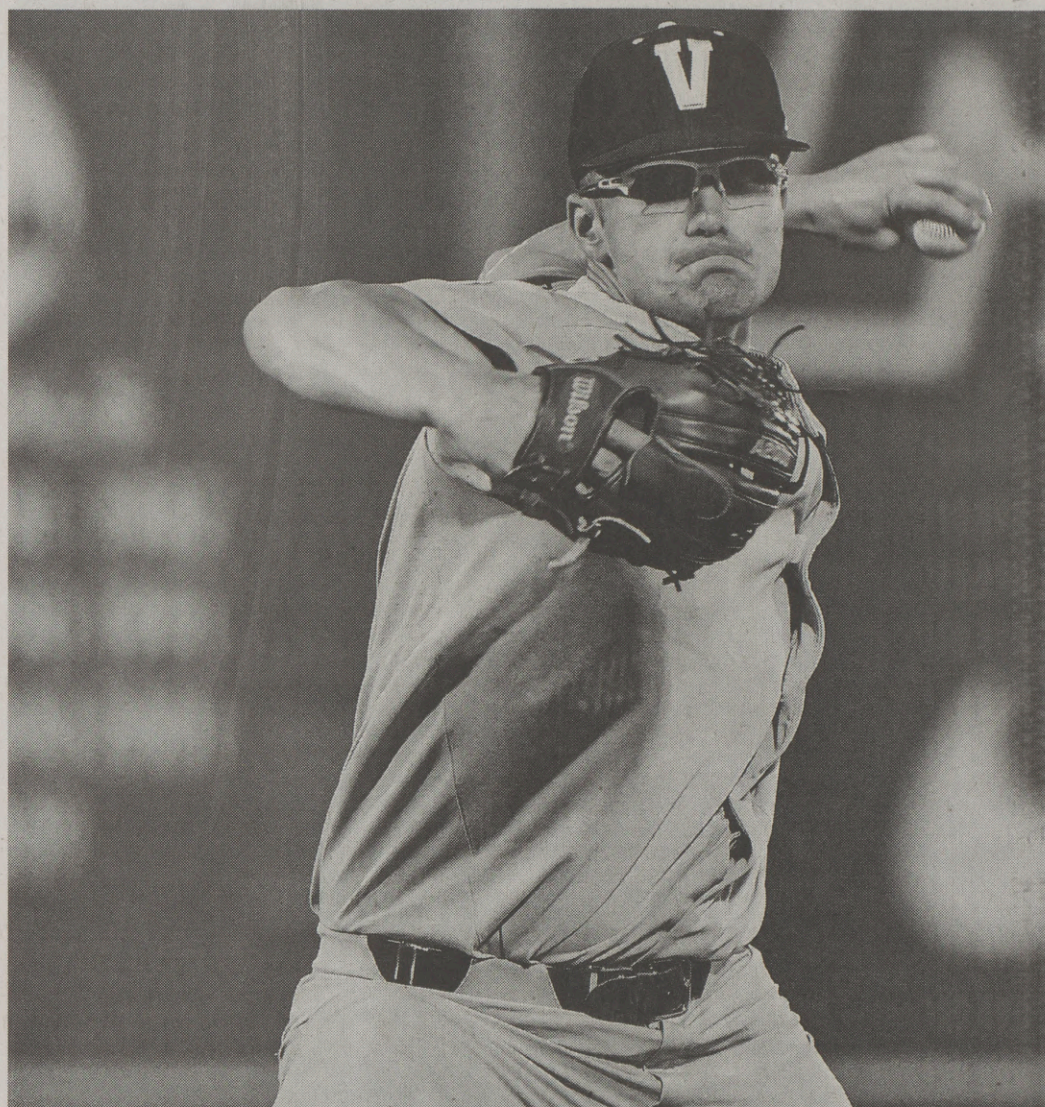

In the second game, Vanderbilt right-hander Kumar Rocker struck out 19 batters and tossed the Commodores' first individual no-hitter since 1971 as part of a 3-0 victory against Duke.

The no-hitter was the first by any player in NCAA Super Regional action. Rocker (10-5) set a Vanderbilt postseason record for strikeouts, surpassing current Boston Red Sox pitcher David Price's mark of 17 against Austin Peay in 2007. The freshman permitted two walks and threw 131 pitches in nine frames.

The result marked the eighth individual no-hitter in NCAA Tournament history. It was also the first by a Commodore hurler since Doug Wessel against Belmont on April 19, 1971. Rocker fanned all three batters in the ninth inning and retired 10 straight to close the game.

Duke right-handed starter Bryce Jarvis (5-2) did not allow a run until the fifth inning when Philip Clarke looped a two-out RBI-single into right field to score Ethan Paul. It was the only blemish against the Franklin, Tennessee, native, who allowed five hits and walked four while fanning nine.

Vanderbilt added insurance in the eighth courtesy of a Pat DeMarco leadoff triple and Stephen Scott sacrifice fly. With one out and runners on second and third, Julian Infante set down a squeeze bunt to score Harrison Ray for a 3-0

Four Blue Devils (35-25) struck out multiple times including three-hole hitter Matt Mervis who fanned four times. The result comes one night after Vanderbilt allowed a NCAA Tournament program-record 18 runs including a 10-run eighth inning.

Finally, in the third game, the Commodores scored in each of the first five innings, highlighted by two Austin Martin home runs and a three-run long ball from Pat DeMarco en route to a 13-2 win against Duke on Sunday.

Vanderbilt (54-11) matched a program record with its 54th victory, joining the 2007, 2011 and 2013 teams. The Commodores head to Omaha, Nebraska, having won 30 of their last 32 games. Duke closes its second consecutive super regional appearance with a 35-27 overall record.

Seniors Stephen Scott and Julian Infante struck solo homers in the fourth and fifth respectively.

The Commodores totaled five homers in a game for the second time this season, upping their single-season program record to 93.

The result marked the first time Vanderbilt has come back to win a super regional after dropping the opening game. The Dore were previously 0-6 but staved off elimination with a complete-game no-hitter from Kumar Rocker on Saturday to set up Sunday's showdown.

Ethan Paul reached on an infield single and Philip Clarke walked before coming home on a towering three-run home run onto Memorial Gymnasium from DeMarco.

The Commodores kept the pressure on in the second as Martin clocked his second homer of the game. The two-run shot, which came off freshman reliever Jack Carey, marked his first multi-home run game and upped Vandy's advantage to 6-0.

DANVERS - The No. 8 seed Essex Tech softball team took advantage of some defensive miscues by the No. 9 Wilmington Wildcats to come away with a 6-4 victory in the first round of the Division 2 North Sectional tournament played Saturday afternoon.

Essex Tech moved on to face the No. 1 seed Triton Vikings and were defeated 11-3 to finish 15-7 on the season, while, the Wildcats finished at 14-7.

Heading into the sixth inning, Wilmington and Essex Tech were tied at 2-2 before four unearned runs had the 'Cats trailing, 6-2.

"The first batter reached on an error and that set them up perfectly (to execute) the short game," said head coach Audrey Cabral-Pini. "We wound up making three consecutive errors in the inning and before you knew it, we were down by four (runs)."

Wilmington did mount a comeback in the seventh but it fell just short. Jenna Sweeney led off the rally smacking a "monstrous" home run over the center field fence. Ashley Crawford kept the rally going with a single. Ally Moran was then robbed on a hit by a great catch by the Essex Tech right fielder.

"That was one of the best catches that we have seen in a long time," said Cabral-Pini. "If she missed that, Ally would have had a triple."

Ryan Bailey followed with a RBI double to score Crawford and then Bella Kieran reached first on a dropped third strike.

"If the right fielder missed that, two runs would have scored with no outs," said

Cabral-Pini.

With runners at the corners with one out and down 6-4, the 'Cats couldn't put the ball in play and Essex Tech recorded the final two outs to get the win.

"Not only were we not able to defend the bunts today, we were unsuccessful in our four or five attempts to get our own bunts down. We had runners on in every inning, but could not move them over or get on via the bunt," said Cabral-Pini.

Kayla Bourrell led the offense going 4-for-4, while Sweeney had the home run and Bailey had a RBI.

Wilmington Little League Profile: Ally Moran

Wilmington Little League would like to recognize the seniors on Wilmington High School's baseball and softball team, respectively. The next installment includes WHS softball player Ally Moran.

Ally Moran just completed her fourth season as a member of the WHS softball team. She served once again as the team's pitcher as well as one of their key offensive contributors batting third in the Lady Wildcats lineup.

Ally split time on the mound her freshman year, but solidified herself as the main pitcher, having pitched every inning during her sophomore and junior seasons.

She has been a Middlesex League All-Star the past three years, as well as earning the Freedom Division Most Valuable Player last year. She has also been selected as a 2nd team Lowell Sun All-Star her freshman and sophomore years, as well as a first team Lowell Sun selection junior year.

Ally started playing softball in the Billerica Girls Softball Association before moving on to Wilmington High School in eighth grade. She feels very lucky to have had such great teammates and has gotten many close friendships that will last a lifetime.

Ally feels very privileged to have received many individual awards and acknowledgements, but her fondest memories are playing on four successful teams that have qualified for the tournament.

Ally will be attending Framingham State University, where she was recruited to play softball. While she is looking forward to the next chapter, both academically and athletically, she will greatly miss her friends and teammates at Wilmington High School.

She would like to thank her family and friends that have supported and rooted for her through the ups and downs over the years. She would also like to thank all the coaches that not only stressed the importance of hard work and determination, but also the importance of having fun playing the game that she loves.

Lastly, she would like to thank all her teammates, past and present. Without their shared goals, dedication, and passion, the Lady Wildcats would not have been as successful during her high school career.

Pirates and Astros combine for 30 runs in Wilmington AAA Baseball game

AAA

Pirates 17, Astros 13
On the mound for the Pirates, Mark Cataldo led things off by pitching two and a third dominant innings. Mickey Moroney came on in relief and struck out his fair share of Astros.

Finally, Evan Walsh pitched two solid innings to close out the game. Every batter on the team either got a hit (or hits) or drew a walk. Joe Mytych, Aiden Harris, Evan Walsh and Max Snapausky paced the offense with two hits apiece. Spencer Walker played a great all-around game as he walked, had a single, stole a few bases, and made a highlight-reel, diving catch behind home plate in the last inning.

Dylan Mainini was robbed of a hit on a nice catch by Astros outfielder John Roofoe on a deep fly ball, but hit a key double during the Pirates' fifth inning rally, and stole a base. Adam Ientile drew a walk, stole a few bases, and provided solid defense at second base.

Max Glazer did a stellar job blocking balls behind the plate as catcher, stole a base, and delivered a clutch, two-out single that knocked in two runs in the top of the fourth inning. Jacoby Tibbetts walked twice, stole a few bases, and did a solid job in the outfield backing up multiple plays in the field.

Danny Fogg drew a walk, stroked a single in the top of the fourth inning, and played solid defense in the outfield. Last but not least, Jackson Cipolle singled during the big fourth inning rally and made one of the defensive plays of the game in the bottom of the fifth inning when playing left field, as he threw out a runner going to third base for the pivotal second out of the inning.

While the Astros were knocked back by the Pirates' initial aggressiveness, they found their footing and showed the resilience they've had when needed throughout the year. Jake Gryglik as usual was around the plate for the three innings he pitched, striking out six. Tony Cummings came in and fanned two over the final two innings. The defense was equally important in keeping the game as close as it was.

With the Pirates putting the ball in play, it was up to the likes of Andrew Santo, Aidan Raposa, Connor Jamieson, Kevin Pruslin, Dylan Costantiello, Joey Fennelly, Cael Considine, and John Roofoe to limit the damage with their gloves.

Highlights included Pruslin taking a nice throw from Costantiello to chase down a runner coming into third base and Roofoe's aforementioned nice running catch in the outfield. Fennelly, Patrick Moriarty, and Santo each did their usual great jobs as catchers, with Moriarty giving signals to Cummings about changing speeds.

The late game surge that brought the Astros back was keyed by Fennelly, Considine, and Roofoe who had two singles each. Considine's aggressive baserunning turned one of his into a four-base journey. Jamieson, Gryglik, Pruslin, Costantiello, and Cummings had hits throughout the game as well.

AAA

Cardinals vs Astros

John Roofoe was dominant on the mound for the Astros, striking out five in two innings. Cael Considine then came in to whiff one and Connor Jamieson finished the game with a pair of strikeouts of his own. Catchers Andrew Santo and Joey Fennelly kept the Cardinals' baserunners in check throughout the game.

The offense was humming with Santo leading the way, singling three times. Tony Cummings, Jake Gryglik, Fennelly, and Considine contributed two hits each while Aidan Raposa and Jamieson singled as well.

Excellent plate discipline by John Roofoe, Kyle Price, and Kevin Pruslin were among those who got on base via the walk. Pruslin and Price bounced back quickly after getting hit by pitches as well.

The team's consistently strong fielding was evident again highlighted by Price's great stop of a sharp grounder at third, firing to Pruslin who alertly covered second for the forceout.

Considine had a nice unassisted putout at first base, Gryglik and Santo made outstanding plays in the third inning at shortstop and third respectively, and Jamieson chased down a fly ball after a long run and fired right into the infield to stop the runners from advancing.

The Cardinals turned in a number of strong pitching performances, led by a sparkling season debut from Frankie Cain, a solid start from Nathan Murphy, and Ayden Rivera closing things out. Parker Canevari saved a number of runs with great defense behind the dish while James Savoie filled in admirably in the second half of the game to give the Cards quality catching throughout.

Griffin Crowe led the offensive attack with a scorching single that started the Cardinals' biggest offensive rally, while Tommy Demers showed off his speed late in the game legging out an infield single, advancing to second, and stealing third.

Joey Fallis, Sean O'Brien, and Masen Voner all helped power the Cards offense and keep things close with great at bats and impressive plate discipline.

Single-A

Rays vs. Pirates

The Rays has an offensive explosion led by Tommy Roofoe with four hits while Alex Sullivan, Jackson Childs, Michael Crowley, and Brendan Cyr each had two hits. Ryan Doherty and Chris Gattineri each got big hits of their own as well.

All the players were focused in the field and cheered each other on louder than any previous game while waiting on the bench for their turn to bat.

The Pirates hung tough and clawed their way back against the Rays. Jack Jamieson, Ryan Biggins, and Ben Sawyer had big hits while Sam Beaudoin drove in two runs. Nico McCollem, Joshua Lopez, and Colby O'Brien played great defense behind the strong pitching of Sean Theodos and Bart Zaino.

Single-A

Rays vs. Braves

The Rays played a great game against the Braves Monday night. The runs were few and far between for the two teams in this pitcher's duel. Benji Hebert, Brendan Cyr, Alex Sullivan, and Michael Crowley all contributed with hits.

Cameron White and Tommy Roofoe both made great plays in the field including Cameron stopping a screaming hit from getting into the outfield and Tommy catching a fly ball. Ryan Doherty and Jackson Childs both pitched scoreless innings while each getting strikeouts.

For the Braves, the baseball bats were swinging as the they stepped to the plate with solid hits from Evan Jageler, Jacob Andrade-Silva, Joslyn Coughlin and Davio Dicenso. The Braves defense was led by the pitching of Mason DeRose and Evan Jageler who each had key strike outs that led to two scoreless innings.

The defense was further helped by the heads up play at short stop by Ben Card who fielded the ball and made a great play at third connecting with Braves third baseman Mike Trimarchi.

The Braves outfield was protected by the efforts of Alex Murphy, Jackson Parker, and Cameron Jaynes who closed up the gaps and backed up all plays made in the infield.

CITATION ON PETITION FOR FORMAL ADJUDICATION

Docket No.
MI19P2793EA

Estate of:
Catherine F. Graham
Also known as:
Katherine F. Graham
Date of Death:
03/04/2011

To all interested persons:

A Petition for Formal Adjudication of Intestacy and Appointment of Personal Representative has been filed by Katherine A. Sirbak of Wilmington MA requesting that the Court enter a formal Decree and Order and for such other relief as requested in the Petition.

The Petitioner requests that: Katherine A. Sirbak of Wilmington MA be appointed as Personal Representative(s) of said estate to serve Without Surety on the bond in an unsupervised administration.

IMPORTANT NOTICE
You have the right to obtain a copy of the Petition from the Petitioner or at the Court. You have a right to object to this proceeding. To do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance and objection at this Court before: 10:00 a.m. on the return day of 06/28/2019.

This is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline by which you must file a written appearance and objection if you object to this proceeding. If you fail to file a timely written appearance and objection followed by an affidavit of objections within thirty (30) days of the return day, action may be taken without further notice to you.

UNSUPERVISED ADMINISTRATION UNDER THE MASSACHUSETTS UNIFORM PROBATE CODE (MUPC)

A Personal Representative appointed under the MUPC in an unsupervised administration is not required to file an inventory or annual accounts with the Court. Persons interested in the estate are entitled to notice regarding the administration directly from the Personal Representative and may petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including the distribution of assets and expenses of administration.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Charles A. Benson and July E. Benson to Reading Cooperative Bank, dated January 18, 2008, and recorded with the Middlesex County (North District) Registry of Deeds in Book 21897, Page 60, of which the undersigned is the present holder, and for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purposes of foreclosing the same, Reading Cooperative Bank will sell at PUBLIC AUCTION at 11:00 a.m., on June 21, 2019, at 26 Fairmeadow Road, Wilmington, MA, all and the singular, the premises described in said mortgage, to wit:

The land with the buildings thereon, situated in Wilmington, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, being shown as Lot 61 on a plan entitled "Atkins Grove Park, Wilmington, Mass. Owned and Developed by John D. Cooke" dated April 1952, H. Kingman Abbott, Reg. Surveyor, Reading, recorded with Middlesex North District Deeds, Book of Plans 81, Plan 186(1), bounded and described as follows:

Easterly: by Fairmeadow Road, one hundred (100) feet;

Southeasterly: by Lot 62 as shown on said plan, eighty-four and 83/100 (84.83) feet;

Southwesterly: by Lot 51 as shown on said plan, one hundred thirty-two and 76/100 (132.76) feet; and Northerly: by Lot 60, as shown on said plan, one hundred sixteen and 85/100 (116.85) feet.

Containing 11,210 square feet of land, according to said plan. For my title see deed recorded with Middlesex North District County Registry of Deeds in Book 20102, Page 46.

Together with all rights, privileges and easements connected therewith and subject to restrictions, easements and rights of way of record, and said premises are hereby conveyed subject to any building and zoning law requirements which may be in force and applicable.

This sale is subject to a prior mortgage to Mortgage Electronic Registration System, Inc. as nominee for Amerihome Mortgage Company, LLC dated June 24, 2008 and recorded with said Registry at Book 22295, Page 12.

Said sale will be subject to all real estate taxes and municipal assessments and betterments, prior liens, including Condominium common expenses and other enforceable encumbrances of record entitled to precedence over this mortgage and subject to and with the benefit of all easements, restrictions, covenants and rights of way, if any.

Terms of sale. Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars at the time of sale, balance in Thirty (30) days at the offices of Oakley, O'Sullivan & Eaton, P.C., 857 Turnpike Street, North Andover, MA. The deposit and balance is to be cash, certified check, bank cashier's check or bank treasurer's check. Other terms to be announced at the sale.

The undersigned Mortgage Holder reserves the right to reject any and all bids made at the foreclosure sale, to amend or change the terms of the sale by announcement made prior to, or at the foreclosure sale and to continue the foreclosure sale to such subsequent date as the Mortgagee may deem advisable.

Three-sport captain finishes off career

He'll bring with him a number of scholarships, thanks to his feats on the baseball mound, as well as his academic successes and a 4.1 GPA.

"Sports participation at Notre Dame, whether it's a club team or some other group, isn't quite on my radar at this stage," said Stokes, once again showing responsibility and sound judgment which was obviously instilled by his grandparents and parents, Chuck and Kristen. "My focus will be on the academics. I'm pretty sure I'll study political science and later, maybe go to law school."

The scholarships Stokes has earned include an award from the Wilmington Booster Association, the Wilmington Little League Scholarship, and from the Wilmington Police Department, the Jack Maguire Memorial Scholarship. Stokes was also recently honored with the Lawrence Cushing Award which "demonstrates scholarship, sportsmanship, and athletic ability."

When his senior year got underway last September, Stokes returned to lead the Wildcats golf team with three independent match wins in twelve tries. The team, coached by the highly-respected Stephen Lynch, suffered deep graduation losses and struggled through a winless 2019 season.

"It seems to be the story with many of the Wilmington sports programs this year but with golf, we were definitely in the midst of rebuilding," explained Stokes, who was the team captain in his final season. "We lost as many as ten players, basically returning just three. I was the number one player, Zach Kincaid was number two, and number three was Gavin Kelsey."

Stokes was proud of the improvement in his golf game from junior to senior year that saw him transition from the eighth spot to number one. He was also pleased, despite the team's record, with his individual ability to keep matches close enough for a possible team win.

Next up for Stokes was the winter season and basketball team led by Coach Dennis Ingram. In a recurring theme, the Wildcats sent a depleted squad to the hardwood and managed only five wins in a twenty game campaign. That result, however, proved enough for the team to land a North Division 3 tournament berth via the Sullivan Rule, which permits small schools like Wilmington to participate in large-school conferences.

"Sadly, the tournament didn't go that well for us," said Stokes, referring to a No. 3 Shawsheen 70-56 defeat of a No. 14-seed Wilmington in a first round mismatch. "Like golf, the basketball team didn't have the benefit of many returning players. But it was a great bunch of kids with a lot of raw athletic talent. I think that team will be good in the near future."

According to the baseball prospect website, Prep Baseball Report, right-handed pitcher Stokes wields a fastball in the vicinity of 80-81 miles-per-hour, a change-up measured at 74-75, and a curve clocked around 69-71. With the Wildcats, he wrapped up a stellar pitching career with an ERA of 2.06, a BAA of .221, and a WHIP of 1.29, while over his three years on varsity, the team registered 39 wins. Unfortunately, the baseball program also sustained deep personnel losses, much like golf and basketball, and failed to get on track this year.

"We lost twelve seniors coming into this baseball season and we knew there would be a drop off," said Stokes, who paid tribute to coaches Aldo and Brian Ciara. "There were a couple of times that we won back-to-back games but we could never put together a real winning streak. But at the same time, our perseverance won out because we didn't have a losing streak, either."

It is said that the last game in a high school athlete's career is the one most remembered. But for Stokes and the rest of this season's Wildcats squad, the 11-1 defeat dealt by Dracut in the preliminary round of the Wilmington High senior Chris Stokes makes a play at shortstop during last Thursday's state tournament loss to Dracut. (photo by JoeBrownphotos.com).

MIAA North Division 3 tournament would best be forgotten. Instead, Stokes would rather talk about his sophomore season.

"Two years ago, we won the league and went undefeated in our division," he shared. "We were 9-0 and were scheduled to face Burlington in a night game. It was such an exciting time and we had a chance to go undefeated. We beat Burlington and looking back at the magnitude of the game and that season overall, it was really something special and I was happy to be part of it."

And it goes without saying, that Wilmington High School athletics was happy to have Stokes representing the school for the last four years.
